NEW QUESTION # 63

What is the correct risk assessment equation used in AML/CFT compliance frameworks, including for cryptoasset risk evaluations?

- A. Inherent Risk - Residual Risk = Control Effectiveness
- B. Inherent Risk - Control Effectiveness = Residual Risk
- C. Inherent Risk + Control Effectiveness = Residual Risk
- D. Residual Risk + Control Effectiveness = Inherent Risk

Answer: B

Explanation:

In risk-based AML/CFT programs - including those applied to Virtual Asset Service Providers (VASPs) - risk assessment determines the remaining exposure after applying mitigating measures.

Inherent Risk: The natural level of risk before applying any controls, based on factors like customer profile, transaction patterns, and jurisdiction.

Control Effectiveness: The degree to which implemented controls (e.g., CDD, EDD, sanctions screening, blockchain analytics) reduce risk.

Residual Risk: The risk that remains after controls are applied and is the level an organization must either accept, reduce further, or avoid.

The standard formula is:

$\text{Inherent Risk} - \text{Control Effectiveness} = \text{Residual Risk}$

This equation is emphasized in FATF's risk-based approach guidance and reinforced in DIFC (DFSA) and ADGM (FSRA) AML rules to ensure ongoing monitoring and governance oversight of remaining risks.

NEW QUESTION # 64

Which consensus mechanism uses staked tokens to validate transactions instead of computational power?

- A. Proof-of-Stake
- B. Byzantine Fault Tolerance
- C. Proof-of-Work
- D. Delegated Ledger Approval

Answer: A

Explanation:

Proof-of-Stake (PoS) replaces the energy-intensive mining process of Proof-of-Work by allowing validators to secure the network based on the amount of cryptocurrency they "stake" as collateral. Validators are rewarded for correctly validating transactions and risk losing their stake if they act dishonestly. Regulatory AML/CFT programs must consider validator concentration risks and the jurisdictional exposure of validators in PoS systems.
