Salesforce Certified Platform Developer II - Multiple Choice Sample Questions (Q52-Q57):

NEW QUESTION # 52

An org has an existing process, built using Process Builder, on Opportunity that sets a custom field, CommissionBaseAmount__c, when an Opportunity is edited and the Opportunity's Amount changes.

A developer recently deployed an Opportunity before update trigger that uses the CommissionBaseAmount__c and complex logic to calculate a value for a custom field, CommissionAmount__c, when an Opportunity stage changes to Closed/Won.

Users report that when they change the Opportunity to Closed/Won and also change the Amount during the same save, the CommissionAmount__c is incorrect.

Which action should the developer take to correct this problem?

- A. A Replace the process with a Fast Field Update record-trigger flow.
- B. Call the trigger from the process.
- C. Call the process from the trigger.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The issue described is likely due to the order of execution in Salesforce, where processes in Process Builder run after all before triggers. If the Opportunity's Amount is changed and the CommissionBaseAmount__c is set by Process Builder, the trigger that calculates CommissionAmount__c may not see the updated value if it operates before the process.

Replacing the process with a before-save record-triggered flow (formerly known as Fast Field Update) would ensure that CommissionBaseAmount__c is updated before the trigger runs. In a before-save flow, field updates occur before any Apex before update triggers fire, which means the trigger would have the updated value of CommissionBaseAmount__c to use in its calculation.

NEW QUESTION # 53

Universal Containers has an Apex trigger on Account that creates an Account Plan record when an Account is marked as a Customer.

Recently a record-triggered flow was added so that whenever an Account is marked as a Customer, a 'Customer Since' date field is updated with today's date. Since the addition of the flow, two Account Plan records are created whenever the Account is marked as a Customer.

What might cause this to happen?

- A. The flow is configured to use an 'Update Records' element.
- B. The flow is configured to evaluate when a record is created and every time it is edited.
- C. The Apex trigger is not bulk safe and calls insert inside of a for loop.
- D. The Apex trigger does not use a static variable to ensure it only fires once.

Answer: A

Explanation:

If a flow is configured to evaluate when a record is created and every time it's edited, and an Apex trigger also fires upon the same conditions, it could result in duplicate operations. In this case, two Account Plan records are created because both the flow and the trigger execute upon the Account being marked as a Customer.

NEW QUESTION # 54

A business currently has a process to manually upload orders from its external Order Management System (OMS) into Salesforce. This is a labor intensive process since accounts must be exported out of Salesforce to get the IDs. The upload file must be updated with the correct account IDs to relate the orders to the corresponding accounts.

Which two recommendations should make this process more efficient?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Identify unique fields on Order and Account and set them as External IDs.
- B. Use the upsert wizard in the Data Loader to import the data.
- C. Use the insert wizard in the Data Loader to import the data.
- D. Ensure the data in the file is sorted by the order ID.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Setting unique fields on related objects as External IDs allows for the creation of relationships during imports without needing Salesforce IDs. The upsert operation in Data Loader can then use these External IDs to relate records, which streamlines the process and avoids the need to export Salesforce IDs manually.

NEW QUESTION # 55

A developer wrote a trigger on Opportunity that will update a custom Last Sold Date field on the Opportunity's Account whenever an Opportunity is closed. In the test class for the trigger, the assertion to validate the Last Sold Date field fails.

What might be causing the failed assertion?

- A. The test class has not defined an Account owner when inserting the test data.
- B. The test class has not implemented seealldata=true in the test method.
- C. The test class is not using System.runs () to run tests as a Salesforce administrator.
- D. The test class has not re-queried the Account record after updating the Opportunity.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The test class may not be re-querying the Account record after updating the Opportunity, which is necessary to verify the updated field values. If the test does not query the database to get the most recent data after the trigger runs, it will not see the changes made by the trigger.

NEW QUESTION # 56

Refer to the test method below:

@isTest
static void testIncrementViewed() {
    Account acct = new Account(Name = 'Test');
    acct.Number_of_Times_Viewed__c = 0;
    insert acct;

    AuditUtil.incrementViewed(acct.Id);

    Account acctAfter = [SELECT Number_of_Times_Viewed__c FROM Account
WHERE Id = :acct.Id][0];

    System.assertEquals(1, acctAfter.Number_of_Times_Viewed__c);

The test method calls an @future method that increments the Number_of_Times_Viewed__c value. The assertion is failing because the Number_of_Times_Viewed__c equals 0. What is the optimal way to fix this?

- A. Change the assertion to system.assertEquals(0, acctAfter.Number_of_Times_Viewed__c).
- B. Add Test.startTest() before and Test.stopTest() after AuditUtil.incrementViewed.
- C. Add Test.startTest() before and Test.stopTest() after insert acct.
- D. Change the initialization to acct.Number_of_Times_Viewed__c = 1.

Answer: B

Explanation:

When a test method calls an @future method that performs DML operations, the changes made by the @future method won't be visible until after the Test.stopTest() is called. This method ensures that all asynchronous processes are completed before the test execution continues. Therefore, Test.startTest() should be before the call to the @future method and Test.stopTest() immediately after.
