Esri Enterprise Administration Professional 2201 Sample Questions (Q29-Q34):

NEW QUESTION # 29

A GIS administrator needs to change the ownership of a shared update group to a different user. The administrator receives an error message: "Unable to reassign the group at this time." What is causing this error?

- A. The user does not have the correct privileges
- B. It is not possible to reassign ownership of shared update groups
- C. The sharing settings on the group are configured incorrectly

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 30

A small organization has an ArcGIS Enterprise deployment where all components are installed on one virtual server hosted on Microsoft Azure. Each deployment component was initially installed manually. The organization wants to upgrade its deployment to the most recent version in the most efficient way.

Which action should the organization perform?

- A. Upgrade the entire deployment with ArcGIS Enterprise Builder
- B. Manually upgrade each ArcGIS Enterprise component
- C. Run the ArcGIS Enterprise Cloud Builder for Microsoft Azure tool

Answer: B

Explanation:

For ArcGIS Enterprise deployments on Microsoft Azure that were initially installed manually, the recommended approach for upgrading is to manually upgrade each component. This involves downloading the latest installers for each component (Portal for ArcGIS, ArcGIS Server, ArcGIS Data Store, etc.) and following the standard upgrade procedures for each. This method ensures that each component is properly updated and configured according to the organization's specific setup.

Using ArcGIS Enterprise Builder (Option B) is intended for new installations and is not suitable for upgrading existing deployments. ArcGIS Enterprise Cloud Builder for Microsoft Azure (Option C) is designed for deployments that were originally created using Cloud Builder; it cannot be used to upgrade deployments that were installed manually.

NEW QUESTION # 31

A single Linux machine deployment of ArcGIS Enterprise has a home partition of 20 GB, a /data partition of 150 GB, and an /opt partition of 75 GB.

Where should the configuration store and directories be located?

- A. /opt
- B. /home
- C. /data

Answer: C

Explanation:

The configuration store and server directories for ArcGIS Enterprise should be placed in a partition with ample disk space and stable read/write performance, as these directories store logs, cache, uploads, and critical site configuration information.

In this scenario:

- * The /home partition (20 GB) is insufficient for growth and operational overhead.
 - * The /opt partition (75 GB) is moderately sized but still smaller than the /data partition.
 - * The /data partition (150 GB) provides the most space, making it the best choice to ensure scalability and system reliability.
- Best practice from ArcGIS Enterprise documentation recommends placing server directories and configuration stores on high-capacity partitions like /data when available.

NEW QUESTION # 32

An ArcGIS Pro user receives the following error when trying to publish to ArcGIS Enterprise:

"Unable to publish to ArcGIS Server, error 001369: failed to create service" The ArcGIS Server logs reveal:

- * Failed to create service
- * Internal server error
- * Unable to instantiate class for XML schema type
- * Invalid XML registry file
- * 390 ArcSOC processes running
- * Server uses only half of available RAM

Which action should the administrator perform?

- A. Increase the non-interactive desktop heap size
- B. Scale up the ArcGIS Server machine resources
- C. Use more dedicated instances instead of shared

Answer: A

Explanation:

This issue is consistent with desktop heap exhaustion, especially when a high number of ArcSOC processes (e.g., 390) are running on Windows. Desktop heap is a limited memory resource used for GUI and system object management. When it runs out, services can fail to start and produce XML-related errors.

Increasing the non-interactive desktop heap size in the Windows registry resolves this.

From Esri documentation:

"If the Windows desktop heap size is too low, ArcGIS Server may be unable to create new processes (ArcSOC), causing service failures and related internal server errors."

* Option B is a generic fix and won't address the specific heap exhaustion issue.

* Option C doesn't help if the root issue is OS-level heap size limits.

NEW QUESTION # 33

An ArcGIS analyst is curating a series of basemaps for field crews editing utility infrastructure in the field.

The analyst must ensure optimal performance.

Which type of service should be published?

- A. Vector tile service
- B. Dynamic map service
- C. Cached map service

Answer: C

Explanation:

For field operations, Vector Tile Services are highly efficient and suitable for basemaps. They offer fast rendering, smaller file sizes, and are easily scalable across various devices, including those with limited bandwidth or processing capabilities. Vector tiles also support dynamic styling and are ideal for offline use, which is often necessary for field crews working in areas with limited connectivity.

Cached map services (Option A) are raster-based and can be larger in size, making them less optimal for mobile use. Dynamic map services (Option B) require real-time data rendering, which can be resource-intensive and may not perform well in field conditions with limited connectivity.
