  required_providers {
    aws = {
      source = "hashicorp/aws"
      version = "~> 3.0"
    }
  }
}
```

- C. Requires any version of the AWS provider  $\geq 3.0$  and  $<4.0$
- D. Requires any version of the AWS provider  $> 3.0$

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 72

How could you reference an attribute from the vsphere_datacenter data source for use with the datacenter_id argument within the vsphere_folder resource in the following configuration?

data "vsphere_datacenter" "dc" {}

resource "vsphere_folder" "folder" {
  datacenter_id = data.vsphere_datacenter.dc.id
}
```

- A. Data.vsphere_datacenter.DC.id
- B. Data.vsphere_datacenter,dc
- C. Vsphere_datacenter.dc.id
- D. Data,dc,id

Answer: A

Explanation:

The correct way to reference an attribute from the vsphere_datacenter data source for use with the datacenter_id argument within the vsphere_folder resource in the following configuration is data.vsphere_datacenter.dc.id. This follows the syntax for accessing data source attributes, which is data.TYPE.NAME.ATTRIBUTE. In this case, the data source type is vsphere_datacenter, the data source name is dc, and the attribute we want to access is id. The other options are incorrect because they either use the wrong syntax, the wrong punctuation, or the wrong case. References = [Data Source: vsphere_datacenter], [Data Source: vsphere_folder], [Expressions: Data Source References]

- B. After you run terraform plan so you can validate that your state file is consistent with your infrastructure
- C. Before you run terraform plan so you can validate your code syntax
- D. Before you run terraform apply so you can validate your provider credentials

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

This is the best time to run terraform validate, as it will check your code for syntax errors, typos, and missing arguments before you attempt to create a plan. The other options are either incorrect or unnecessary.

NEW QUESTION # 75

How can you protect that data?

- A. Store the state in an encrypted backend
- B. Delete the state file every time you run Terraform
- C. Edit your state file to scrub out the sensitive data
- D. Always store your secrets in a secrets.tfvars file
