Scrum SAFe-Practitioner (SAFe 5 Practitioner (SP)) Exam is a certification that demonstrates an individual's expertise in implementing and leading Agile teams using the Scaled Agile Framework (SAFe). SAFe is a framework designed to help organizations scale Agile practices to the enterprise level. The SAFe 5 Practitioner certification is an advanced-level certification that signifies an individual's ability to apply SAFe principles and practices to lead Agile teams and deliver successful outcomes.

Scrum SAFe Practitioner Exam (6.0) Sample Questions (Q181-Q186):

NEW QUESTION # 181

What is a quality of an Agile team?

- A. Composed of 10 to 20 members
- B. Managers direct their work
- C. Cross-functional
- D. Each team has a Scrum Master/Team Coach and a Product Manager

Answer: C

Explanation:

A quality of an Agile team is that it is cross-functional, meaning that it has all the skills and roles necessary to deliver value to the customer. A cross-functional team can work independently and collaboratively, without relying on external dependencies or handoffs. A cross-functional team can also adapt to changing requirements and feedback, and deliver work in small increments.

NEW QUESTION # 182

What best supports Innovation in the SAFe House of Lean?

- A. Built-in quality
- B. Visualizing work
- C. Fast learning cycles
- D. Optimizing the whole

Answer: C

Explanation:

= Fast learning cycles are one of the four pillars of the SAFe House of Lean model, which is based on the Toyota Production System and combines lean management, agile methods, and Lean Thinking¹. Fast learning cycles support innovation by enabling rapid feedback, experimentation, and adaptation, which are essential for creating value and achieving Business Agility². Fast learning cycles also foster a culture of continuous improvement, where teams and individuals are empowered to learn from failures and seek better solutions³. NEW QUESTION # 183

A team finishes developing all of their Stories in the first six days of the Iteration, tests them in the following two days, and fixes bugs in the days remaining. How is the team behaving?

- A. They are waterfalling the Iteration
- B. They are applying the Agile development practice of "separation of concerns"
- C. They are ignoring nonfunctional requirements within the Iteration
- D. They are abusing the practice of hardening

Answer: A

Explanation:

The team is waterfalling the Iteration, which means they are following a sequential and rigid process of development, testing, and fixing, instead of an iterative and incremental approach. This is not aligned with the Agile principles and practices, which advocate for delivering working software frequently, with continuous feedback and improvement. Waterfalling the Iteration reduces the team's ability to respond to change, deliver value, and collaborate effectively. It also increases the risk of accumulating technical debt, defects, and rework.
