Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

Explanation:

You trained an object detection model obj1 inside project proj1 on the acvdev Custom Vision resource and need to move it to the acvprod resource.

Moving a model between Custom Vision resources is done by exporting the project (not an iteration) from the source resource and importing it into the target resource.

* Step 1: GetProjects (acvdev) Retrieve the list of projects on the development resource to obtain the project ID of proj1. The export operation requires the project ID.

* Step 2: ExportProject (acvdev) Call the Export Project API on the development resource to generate the portable project package (includes tags, images' metadata, iterations, settings). This is specifically intended for moving/cloning a project across resources or regions.

* Step 3: ImportProject (acvprod) Use the Import Project API on the production resource to create a new project from the exported package. This recreates the project (and associated iterations/metadata) under acvprod.

Notes:

* ExportIteration is for exporting a trained iteration to formats for edge/container or mobile use, not for transferring to another Custom Vision resource.

* UpdateProject is for changing metadata (name, description, domain) of an existing project and is not part of the move workflow.

* Custom Vision REST API - Projects: Export/Import <https://learn.microsoft.com/azure/ai-services/custom-vision-service/export-import-project>

* Custom Vision REST API - Projects API (Get projects) <https://learn.microsoft.com/rest/api/customvision/training/projects>

* Custom Vision - Export model vs. Export project guidance <https://learn.microsoft.com/azure/ai-services/custom-vision-service/export-your-model> (describes iteration export purpose versus project portability)

NEW QUESTION # 87

You have an app that analyzes images by using the Computer Vision API.

You need to configure the app to provide an output for users who are vision impaired. The solution must provide the output in complete sentences.

Which API call should you perform?

- A. `toImageInStreamAsync`
- B. `describeImageInStreamAsync`
- C. `readInStreamAsync`
- D. `analyzeImageByDomainInStreamAsync`

Answer: B

Explanation:

* To generate complete sentences describing an image (for accessibility for visually impaired users), you must call the Describe Image API.

* `describeImageInStreamAsync` analyzes the content of the image and generates human-readable descriptions in natural language sentences.

* readInStreamAsync is for OCR (extracting text).
* tagImageInStreamAsync is for generating tags (keywords), not full sentences.
* analyzeImageByDomainInStreamAsync is for domain-specific models (e.g., celebrities, landmarks).
