- A. Persona type
- B. Domain
- C. Host
- D. CPG
- E. Size

Answer: D,E

NEW QUESTION # 184

Select the correct description of RTO.

- A. Maximum amount of acceptable data loss in the event a disaster occurs
- B. A property that enables a system to continue operating properly
- C. A set of policies, tools, and procedures to enable the recovery or continuation of vital technology infrastructure
- D. Maximum elapsed time allowed to complete the recovery of application processing

Answer: D

Explanation:

Recovery Time Objective (RTO) refers to the maximum amount of time that is allowed to elapse before the recovery of application processing is completed after a disaster or failure occurs. This metric is crucial for business continuity planning as it defines the acceptable downtime that the business can tolerate before the system is back online and fully functional. For example, if an RTO is set to 2 hours, the business must ensure that the affected systems are restored and operational within that timeframe.

NEW QUESTION # 185

A customer run several HPE 3PAR storeserv system in their environment using data rest encryption .The customer needs to add an HPE 3PAR Storeserv 8000system to the storage pool and an external key manager for all systems.. What is the requirement for this solution?

- A. HPE ESKM FIPS mode must be disabled by the administrator
- B. Boot server for the existing 3PAR storeserv array must be replaced with self-encrypting drive
- C. Data on the existing HPE 3PAR storeserv array must be decrypted and re-encrypted with new keys
- D. All drives of the new HPE 3PAR storeserv array must be self-encrypting

Answer: D

Explanation:

When adding a new HPE 3PAR StoreServ 8000 system to a storage pool that uses data-at-rest encryption and an external key manager, it is mandatory that all drives in the new system are self-encrypting drives (SEDs).

This ensures consistent encryption across all systems within the storage pool and compliance with the security policies managed by the external key manager. The SEDs in the new array will use encryption keys provided by the external key manager, maintaining data security across the environment.
