ECBA Exam Questions

1. Which of the following techniques can be used to model the rationale of a change?

- A. Roles and Permissions Matrix
- B. Organizational modelling
- C. Business capability analysis
- D. Decision modelling - Answer-D. Decision modelling

Explanation: BABoK V3.0 - Section 7.1.4.1 - Model Requirements - Paragraph 3 - Point #2 - Rationale: models represent the 'why' of a change. Techniques used to represent the rationale include Decision Modelling; Scope Modelling; Business Model Canvas; Root Cause Analysis; and Business Rules Analysis

2. The main reason for implementing appropriate levels of abstraction is because:

- A. Not all stakeholders find value in the entire set of requirements
- B. Requirements do not have necessary attributes
- C. Requirements have missing components
- D. Stakeholders don't have interest - Answer-A. Not all stakeholders find value in the entire set of requirements

Explanation: BABoK V3.0 - Section 7.1.4.4 - Implement the Appropriate Levels of Abstraction - The level of abstraction of a requirement varies based on the type of requirement and audience for the requirement. Not all stakeholders require or find value in the complete set of requirements and models. It may be appropriate to produce different viewpoints of requirements to represent the same need for different stakeholders. Business analysts take special care to maintain the meaning and intent of the requirements over all representations.

3. Which of the following is used to record the meaning of relevant business terms while analyzing requirements?

- A. Glossary
- B. Scope model

IIBA Entry Certificate in Business Analysis (ECBA) Sample Questions (Q21-Q26):

NEW QUESTION # 21

Which of the following items is commonly used by a business analyst (BA) during requirements verification?

- A. A checklist with a standard set of quality elements
- B. A benchmarking report with industry comparisons
- C. A user story with inputs and outputs
- D. A business model canvas with financial estimates

Answer: A

Explanation:

Checklists may include a standard set of quality elements that business analysts use to verify the requirements.

NEW QUESTION # 22

What is a logical data model used for?

- A. Abstracting a 'conceptual data model' to incorporate the rules of normalization to manage data integrity and relationships.
- B. Defining the logical rules that govern decisions in an organization and that define, constrain, or enable organizational operations.
- C. Abstracting a 'physical data model' to describe the physical organization of data and its relationships within a database.
- D. Defining a solution independent view of how a business perceives its information without applying any constraints.

Answer: A

Explanation:

A logical data model is used to abstract a 'conceptual data model' by incorporating normalization rules to manage data integrity and relationships. It serves as an abstraction layer that defines the relationships between different data elements, entities, and attributes, focusing on the business concepts and rules that govern the data. This model helps in organizing data to reduce redundancy and improve data integrity, ensuring that the data structure is optimized for both business understanding and database design.

NEW QUESTION # 23

Which core concept defines a specific way of satisfying one or more needs in a context?

- A. Change
- B. Priority
- C. Solution
- D. Value

Answer: C

Explanation:

The core concept that defines a specific way of satisfying one or more needs in a context is 'Solution'. According to the Business Analysis Core Concept Model (BACCM), a solution satisfies a need by resolving a problem faced by stakeholders or enabling stakeholders to take advantage of an opportunity. It is a specific response to a need within a given context, and it can vary significantly from one organization to another as different organizations or situations may require different solutions.
