CFA Institute Sustainable Investing Certificate (CFA-SIC) Exam Sample Questions (Q343-Q348):

NEW QUESTION # 343
Which of the following best describes the challenge of identifying material ESG factors?

- A. Issues arising from ESG factors are not likely to occur in the near future.
- B. Companies in the same sector might be judged to have different material ESG factors.
- C. ESG analysis occurs independently of financial analysis.

Answer: B

Explanation:
The manual explicitly notes: "One can deduce that individual companies in the same market-defined sector may be judged to have different material ESG factors impacting their business." It illustrates this with examples within insurance.
More broadly, it stresses that identifying "issues which are genuinely material to a sector and company is one of the most active challenges within ESG investment... there are also differences between what is most material to individual companies within a single sector."

NEW QUESTION # 344
Companies may be excluded from the UK Modern Slavery Act on the basis of:

- A. size only
- B. sector only.
- C. both size and sector

Answer: A

Explanation:
Under the UK Modern Slavery Act, companies are required to publish a statement on the steps they have taken to ensure that slavery and human trafficking are not taking place in their business or supply chains. The Act applies to businesses with a turnover of £36 million or more, making size the primary basis for exclusion.
There are no sector-specific exclusions mentioned in the Act.

NEW QUESTION # 345
ESG performance attribution:

- A. Can be measured using commercially available tools.
- B. Is simple to apply within fixed-income portfolios.
- C. Can be decomposed using Brinson and risk factor attribution.

Answer: C

Explanation:
TheESG Performance and Attributionsection of the OTM clarifies that measuring ESG impact on returns involves quantitative decomposition, often using theBrinson modeland multi-factor risk frameworks. It explains:
"ESG performance attribution can bedecomposed using Brinson and risk factor methodologies, identifying how ESG tilts, exclusions, or integration decisions contributed to active returns." This allows analysts to isolate the effects of ESG scoring, factor exposure (e.g., quality, size, value), and sector allocation. However, the manual also cautions that attribution is complex infixed income, due to duration, credit quality, and issuer heterogeneity, making option A incorrect. Commercial tools (option B) support but do not fully automate this analysis.

Thus, optionCcorrectly reflects both the methodology and practical application as described.

NEW QUESTION # 346
A bond issued to fund projects that provide a clear benefit to the environment best describes a:

- A. sustainability-linked bond.
- B. transition bond.
- C. green bond.

Answer: C

Explanation:
A green bond is a fixed-income instrument specifically earmarked to raise money for climate and environmental projects. These bonds can fund various projects that contribute to environmental sustainability, such as renewable energy, energy efficiency, pollution prevention, sustainable agriculture, and biodiversity conservation.
According to the CFA ESG Investing curriculum, green bonds are designed to help investors fund projects that have positive environmental benefits. These bonds have specific criteria andoften come with verification or assurance from third-party organizations to ensure that the funds are used appropriately and meet the defined environmental objectives.
Reference:
"Typically a green bond is a fixed income instrument tied to projects that create an environmental benefit. Issuers use proceeds for activities aimed at contributing to climate change mitigation, adaptation, or other environmental benefits such as conservation or pollution control".

NEW QUESTION # 347
A mature company has launched a product that reduces customers' electricity usage. This should be incorporated into the company's discounted cash flow (DCF) analysis by increasing its:

- A. cost of capital.
- B. revenue projections.
- C. required rate of return.

Answer: B

Explanation:
The product's ability to reduce electricity usage can lead to increased sales and market share, which would improve revenue projections in the company's DCF analysis. (ESGTextBook[PallasCatFin], Chapter 7, Page 362)
