APMG-International Agile Project Management (AgilePM) Foundation Exam Sample Questions (Q61-Q66):

NEW QUESTION # 61

Considering the value statements in the Agile Manifesto which of the following Documents should only be created where they add value to the project Documents can be created but should never be used to form a contract It is vital that any documents created are visible to, and understood by, [stakeholders/team] High-level documents can be created early in a project to help support planning and understanding.

- A. 1, 2, 3
- B. 2, 3, 4
- C. 1, 3, 4
- D. 1, 2, 4

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Agile Manifesto values "working software over comprehensive documentation," but does not reject documents; it promotes fit-for-purpose documentation that adds value. AgilePM echoes this with lightweight, high-value artifacts (e.g., Business Case, Foundations summary, acceptance criteria) to support clarity and governance "without excessive bureaucracy." Therefore (1) is true: create documents when they add value. (3) is true: documents must be visible and understood by those who use them to collaborate and decide; transparency is essential. (4) is also true: high-level documents early (vision, scope boundaries, approach) support planning, alignment, and later refinement. (2) is false: agile does not prohibit contracts; it values customer collaboration over contract negotiation, yet recognizes contracts may be necessary and useful when framed to enable change. Consequently, the correct set is 1, 3, and 4, i.e., C.

NEW QUESTION # 62

Considering the words of the Agile Manifesto, which of the following is true?

- A. Contractual agreements should be avoided if possible
- B. Contractual agreements should be considered for their value
- C. Contractual agreements must be standardized for simplicity
- D. Contractual agreements should be encouraged by default

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed 150-300 words Explanation (paraphrased from Agile Manifesto principles; exact long extracts cannot be provided due to content limits):

The Agile Manifesto values "customer collaboration over contract negotiation." This does not reject contracts, nor does it insist they be minimized or standardized; it emphasizes that collaboration is usually a more effective driver of value than rigid reliance on contractual terms. In many environments-regulated sectors, outsourced development, or vendor relationships-contracts are necessary and useful. Agile guidance encourages shaping agreements to enable adaptability: focusing on outcomes, shared goals, transparency, and mechanisms for change, rather than locking down detailed scope up front. By recognizing the value of contractual agreements-while prioritizing collaborative behaviors, frequent inspection, and incremental delivery-organizations can balance governance with agility. The practical implication is to design contracts that support iterative delivery, evolving requirements (e.g., via prioritized backlogs), and joint decision-making, rather than treating the contract as the sole arbiter of success. Hence, the statement that most accurately reflects Agile's stance is that contractual agreements should be considered for their value (option C), with collaboration taking precedence in day-to-day delivery and problem-solving.

NEW QUESTION # 63

When should the quality of the evolving solution first be tested?

- A. At the end of each increment
- B. As part of the iterative Development process
- C. At the end of a project.
- D. At the end of a Timebox

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 64

When building a change delivery scorecard, which of the different views on value are achieved through a measurable increase in sales?

- A. Financial.
- B. Internal.
- C. Learning & Growth.
- D. Customer.

Answer: A

Explanation:

- * Financial: A measurable increase in sales reflects improved financial performance, making it a financial metric. Financial views in a change delivery scorecard often include profitability, revenue growth, and ROI-all of which are influenced by sales increases.
 - * Customer, Internal, Learning & Growth: These are equally important views but do not directly relate to sales performance. For instance:
 - * Customer View: Focuses on customer satisfaction and loyalty.
 - * Internal View: Addresses process efficiency.
 - * Learning & Growth View: Pertains to employee development and organizational innovation.
- Key AgilePM Concepts Referenced:
- * Scorecard and Value Metrics: AgilePM Handbook, Section 2.5.3.

NEW QUESTION # 65

If two separate development teams are required to work on the same project, how will this be managed?

- A. There will be two projects with different project roles
- B. Each team will have a different Business Visionary
- C. Each team will need a different Scrum Master
- D. Both teams can share the same Product Owner

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed 150-300 words Explanation (paraphrased from Scrum & AgilePM practice):

When multiple teams build a single product within one project, effective backlog ownership and value alignment are critical. Scrum practice-and AgilePM when combined with Scrum-supports one Product Owner for the product, even when several teams deliver increments in parallel. A single Product Owner preserves a single ordered Product Backlog, unified priorities, and consistent acceptance criteria, minimizing conflicts and dependency churn. Each team may have its own Scrum Master to optimize facilitation and impediment removal locally, but the essential management mechanism for cross-team coherence is shared product ownership (one Product Owner) paired with lightweight cross-team planning and frequent integration. Splitting into two separate projects (with separate roles) for one product typically fragments value flow and complicates governance. Likewise, mandating different Business Visionaries per team dilutes accountability for the product outcome. Hence, the preferred and most effective approach is that both teams share the same Product Owner to maintain a single value and prioritization voice.
