- A. Stored securely in the EPM connection settings
- B. Entered manually for each data load
- C. Stored as plain text in configuration files
- D. Stored in a shared cloud repository

Answer: A

Explanation:

Credentials for source connections are stored securely in the Oracle Cloud EPM connection settings, allowing for automated data loads without manual input each time.

NEW QUESTION # 297

Which of the following actions is required before running a data load using the EPM Integration Agent?

- A. Creating multiple data mappings
- B. Creating custom dashboards for data review
- C. Establishing a secure connection with the source system
- D. Automating the data extraction process

Answer: C

Explanation:

Before running a data load, the EPM Integration Agent must establish a secure connection with the source system to extract data from on-premise applications.

NEW QUESTION # 298

What is the role of drill-through in financial reconciliation processes within Oracle Cloud EPM?

- A. To create dashboards for financial reporting
- B. To ensure that users can trace financial data back to detailed transactions for validation
- C. To manage data transformation during data loads
- D. To automate period mapping across applications

Answer: B

Explanation:

Drill-through is used in financial reconciliation to trace financial data from summary-level reports back to detailed transactions, ensuring accurate validation of the data.

NEW QUESTION # 299

In Oracle Cloud EPM, what is the purpose of the "Test Connection" button when configuring a source connection?

- A. To schedule the connection for future use
- B. To generate a sample data load from the source system
- C. To verify that the connection details are correct and data can be accessed
- D. To automatically create data mappings based on the source system

Answer: C

Explanation:

The "Test Connection" button verifies that the connection details are correct and ensures that Oracle Cloud EPM can successfully access the data from the source system.

NEW QUESTION # 300

Which of the following steps should be taken after running a data integration job to ensure the process was successful?

- A. Review the process details and data logs
- B. Modify the data source connection settings
- C. Re-run the integration with new parameters
