NEW QUESTION # 182

In the plastics industry, which one of the following is NOT one of the four broad areas of processing?

- A. Finishing
- B. Polymerization
- C. Conversion
- D. Manufacturing

Answer: D

Explanation:

In the plastics industry, the four broad areas of processing are polymerization, conversion, finishing, and recycling¹. Polymerization is the process of creating plastic resins from monomers or pre-polymers, using chemical reactions such as addition, condensation, or ring-opening². Conversion is the process of transforming plastic resins into plastic products, using various methods such as injection molding, blow molding, extrusion, rotational molding, and thermoforming³. Finishing is the process of adding value to plastic products, such as coating, printing, welding, or assembling⁴. Recycling is the process of recovering plastic waste and converting it into new plastic products or raw materials, using mechanical, chemical, or biological methods⁵. Therefore, manufacturing is not one of the four broad areas of processing in the plastics industry, as it is a general term that encompasses all the stages of producing plastic products from raw materials. What percent of fire departments surveyed participate in the delivery of emergency medical services?

- A. 90%
- B. 38%
- C. 61%
- D. 79%

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

According to the web search results, 79% of fire departments surveyed participate in the delivery of emergency medical services (EMS). This is based on the NFPA report "US Fire Department Profile 2020"¹, which states that nationwide, 37% of fire departments provided no EMS, 46% provided basic life support (BLS), and 17% provided advanced life support (ALS). Therefore, the percentage of fire departments that provided either BLS or ALS is $46\% + 17\% = 63\%$. However, this does not include fire departments that provided EMS through a third-party contract or agreement. According to the NFPA fireservice survey from 2018-2020, 16% of fire departments reported having such an arrangement. Therefore, the percentage of fire departments that participated in the delivery of EMS in some form is $63\% + 16\% = 79\%$. References:

NEW QUESTION # 186

To be considered a family day-care home, what is the maximum allowable number of clients?

- A. Four
- B. Twelve
- C. Two
- D. Six

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

The maximum allowable number of clients for a family day-care home varies by state and territory, but generally ranges from four to six children unrelated to the operator. A family day-care home is a facility in which a small group of children receive child care services in the provider's own home, such as a house, apartment, or condo unit¹. To ensure a safe care environment, states and territories use child care licensing regulations to limit the number of children, as well as the number of infants and toddlers, that can receive care in a family day-care home¹. Some states and territories may also offer certification or registration to help ensure some basic health and safety standards in certain home-based child care programs¹. To learn more about how your state or territory regulates family day-care homes, you can visit the child care consumer education website and child care resource and referral agency for your state or territory¹.
