AGA Certified Government Financial Manager (CGFM) Sample Questions (Q41-Q46):

NEW QUESTION # 41

Performance measures that report the results of providing goods or services are known as

- A. output measures.
- B. outcome measures.
- C. workload measures.
- D. activity measures.

Answer: A

Explanation:

* Definition of Output Measures:

* Output measures track the results of providing goods or services, such as the number of items produced or services delivered.

* These measures focus on quantity rather than quality or outcomes.

* Explanation of Answer Choices:

* A. Activity measures: Incorrect. Activity measures refer to inputs or processes, not results.

* B. Outcome measures: Incorrect. Outcome measures assess the impact or effectiveness of a program, not the quantity of goods/services provided.

* C. Output measures: Correct. Output measures focus on results (e.g., number of services delivered).

* D. Workload measures: Incorrect. Workload measures assess the volume of work performed but do not necessarily report on the results.

NEW QUESTION # 42

Government entity SEA reporting provides users of general purpose financial reports with an

- A. assessment of financial condition and results of operations.
- B. assessment of the accountability of the public administrators.
- C. evaluation of the effects of changes in public policy.
- D. evaluation of the efficiency and effectiveness of governmental programs.

Answer: D

Explanation:

* Service Efforts and Accomplishments (SEA) Reporting:

* SEA reporting is designed to provide non-financial performance information about the efficiency and effectiveness of government programs.

* It evaluates how well resources are being used to achieve desired outcomes, helping stakeholders assess program performance and accountability.

* Explanation of Answer Choices:

* A. Evaluation of the effects of changes in public policy: Incorrect. SEA reporting does not focus on policy changes but on program performance.

* B. Assessment of financial condition and results of operations: Incorrect. This is the role of financial statements, not SEA reports.

* C. Assessment of the accountability of the public administrators: Incorrect. While SEA reports indirectly support accountability, their main purpose is to assess program efficiency and effectiveness.

* D. Evaluation of the efficiency and effectiveness of governmental programs: Correct. This is the primary focus of SEA reporting.

NEW QUESTION # 43

When reviewing a report on internal control from a shared service provider that noted a weakness, the agency should

- A. ask the service provider to correct the weakness.
- B. consider the existence of compensating or mitigating controls.
- C. dismiss the weakness.
- D. refer the weakness to the Contracting Officer.

Answer: B

Explanation:

* Response to Weaknesses in Shared Service Providers:

* Shared service providers often issue reports on internal controls (e.g., SOC 1 or SOC 2 reports).

* When a weakness is identified, the recipient agency must evaluate whether compensating or mitigating controls exist to address the risk, ensuring continued reliability.

* Explanation of Answer Choices:

* A. Consider the existence of compensating or mitigating controls: Correct. This is a standard response to internal control weaknesses, as outlined in auditing and risk management best practices.

* B. Ask the service provider to correct the weakness: Incorrect. While this may be appropriate, the recipient agency is ultimately responsible for evaluating and addressing the risk.

* C. Dismiss the weakness: Incorrect. Ignoring a weakness can expose the agency to risk.

* D. Refer the weakness to the Contracting Officer: Incorrect. This may be part of the process, but the agency must first assess the impact and controls.
