Oracle Cloud Fusion Analytics Warehouse 2023 Implementation Professional Sample Questions (Q38-Q43):

NEW QUESTION # 38

Data Augmentation provides two types of source tables for extraction from Fusion Applications: System Provided and Customer Provided.

What are the benefits of using System Provided source tables?

- A. System Provided source tables are prevalidated by Oracle Fusion Analytics Warehouse. As part of that validation, Oracle helps ensure the success of processing and mitigates performance impact
- B. Fusion Analytics Warehouse syncs data from System Provided tables in real time.
- C. You get complete access to all transaction tables.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

The benefit of using System Provided source tables for extraction from Fusion Applications is that they are prevalidated by Oracle Fusion Analytics Warehouse. As part of that validation, Oracle helps ensure the success of processing and mitigates performance impact<sup>7</sup>. System Provided source tables are a subset of Business Intelligence view objects that are available for Data Augmentation<sup>8</sup>. You do not get complete access to all transaction tables or real-time sync with System Provided source tables.

NEW QUESTION # 39

During the creation of the FAW instance, you have to provide the Fusion Application connection details and authentication information.

Which method of authentication is recommended by Oracle?

- A. Password-based
- B. JSON Web Token
- C. Multi-factor authentication

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

JSON Web Token (JWT) is the recommended method of authentication by Oracle for creating the FAW instance. JWT is a secure and self-contained way of transmitting information between parties as a JSON object. It is used to assert some number of claims

NEW QUESTION # 40

Refreshing the data pipeline for a functional area allows you to bring in incremental data immediately. Often, administrators execute this refresh option for ad hoc data uploads.

Are there any issues you must consider while executing the refresh option?

- A. Yes; executing an on-demand data refresh brings in all data from the initial extract date. Since it brings in all data, it takes longer to execute.
- B. No; executing an on-demand data refresh brings in incremental data. There are no issues/concerns to consider.
- C. Yes; executing an on-demand data refresh while working on the data may cause temporary inconsistencies.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

To perform data validation from the FAW console, you need to ensure that you have the same data security privileges in the FAW instance and the Oracle Transactional Business Intelligence (OTBI) instance. This will allow you to compare the metrics between the two instances and verify their accuracy<sup>2</sup>. You do not need to have access to all data in the FAW instance or have the administrator privilege in the OTBI instance to perform data validation.

NEW QUESTION # 41

You would like to back up your extensions and alt custom artifacts in FAW. What allows you to back up FAW artifacts?

- A. FAW Bundles
- B. Snapshots
- C. OAC built-in utilities

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

To back up your extensions and all custom artifacts in FAW, you can use snapshots. Snapshots are a feature in FAW that allows you to create a backup of your service instance, including the semantic model, data sets, reports, dashboards, and other analytics content<sup>2</sup>. You can also restore your service instance from a snapshot if needed<sup>3</sup>. OAC built-in utilities and FAW bundles are not available for backing up FAW artifacts

NEW QUESTION # 42

You have successfully implemented a security model in Fusion Applications that meets your security requirements.

However, you have noticed that FAW does not move and replicate your entire security implementation. What can address your requirements in FAW?

- A. Evaluate your security requirements and utilize security customization features in FAW to meet your needs.
- B. Open a support ticket and report the issues that you are encountering.
- C. Set up SSO between FAW and Fusion Applications and synchronize user and Job roles.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

The way that you can address your requirements in FAW when FAW does not move and replicate your entire security implementation from Fusion Applications is to evaluate your security requirements and utilize security customization features in FAW to meet your needs. FAW provides various security customization features, such as custom data roles, custom duty roles, custom security configurations, and functional groups, that allow you to define advanced data security and object security<sup>4</sup>. You do not need to set up SSO between FAW and Fusion Applications or open a support ticket for this purpose.
