IAPP Certified Information Privacy Manager (CIPM) Sample Questions (Q61-Q66):

NEW QUESTION # 61

SCENARIO

Please use the following to answer the next QUESTION:

Amira is thrilled about the sudden expansion of NatGen. As the joint Chief Executive Officer (CEO) with her long-time business partner Sadie, Amira has watched the company grow into a major competitor in the green energy market. The current line of products includes wind turbines, solar energy panels, and equipment for geothermal systems. A talented team of developers means that NatGen's line of products will only continue to grow.

With the expansion, Amira and Sadie have received advice from new senior staff members brought on to help manage the company's growth. One recent suggestion has been to combine the legal and security functions of the company to ensure observance of privacy laws and the company's own privacy policy. This sounds overly complicated to Amira, who wants departments to be able to use, collect, store, and dispose of customer data in ways that will best suit their needs. She does not want administrative oversight and complex structuring to get in the way of people doing innovative work.

Sadie has a similar outlook. The new Chief Information Officer (CIO) has proposed what Sadie believes is an unnecessarily long timetable for designing a new privacy program. She has assured him that NatGen will use the best possible equipment for electronic storage of customer and employee data. She simply needs a list of equipment and an estimate of its cost. But the CIO insists that many issues are necessary to consider before the company gets to that stage.

Regardless, Sadie and Amira insist on giving employees space to do their jobs. Both CEOs want to entrust the monitoring of employee policy compliance to low-level managers. Amira and Sadie believe these managers can adjust the company privacy policy according to what works best for their particular departments.

NatGen's CEOs know that flexible interpretations of the privacy policy in the name of promoting green energy would be highly unlikely to raise any concerns with their customer base, as long as the data is always used in course of normal business activities. Perhaps what has been most perplexing to Sadie and Amira has been the CIO's recommendation to institute a privacy compliance hotline. Sadie and Amira have relented on this point, but they hope to compromise by allowing employees to take turns handling reports of privacy policy violations. The implementation will be easy because the employees need no special preparation. They will simply have to document any concerns they hear.

Sadie and Amira are aware that it will be challenging to stay true to their principles and guard against corporate culture strangling creativity and employee morale. They hope that all senior staff will see the benefit of trying a unique approach.

Based on the scenario, what additional change will increase the effectiveness of the privacy compliance hotline?

- A. Strict communication channels.
- B. An ethics complaint department.
- C. Outsourcing the hotline.
- D. A system for staff education.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Based on the scenario, an additional change that will increase the effectiveness of the privacy compliance hotline is a system for staff education. A privacy compliance hotline is a mechanism for employees, customers, or other stakeholders to report any concerns or violations of the company's privacy policy or applicable laws. However, a hotline alone is not sufficient to ensure a robust and compliant privacy program.

Employees also need to be educated and trained on the importance of privacy, the company's privacy policy and procedures, their roles and responsibilities, and the consequences of non-compliance. A system for staff education can help raise awareness, foster a culture of privacy, and prevent or mitigate potential risks. References: [Privacy Compliance Hotline], [Staff Education]

NEW QUESTION # 64

What is most critical when outsourcing data destruction service?

- A. Obtain a certificate of data destruction.
- B. Conduct an annual in-person audit of the provider's facilities.
- C. Ensure that they keep an asset inventory of the original data.
- D. Confirm data destruction must be done on-site.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Obtaining a certificate of data destruction is the most critical step when outsourcing data destruction service.

Data destruction is the process of permanently erasing or destroying personal information from electronic devices or media so that it cannot be recovered or reconstructed. Data destruction is an important part of data protection and retention policies, as it helps prevent unauthorized access, disclosure, or misuse of personal information that is no longer needed or relevant. Outsourcing data destruction service can be convenient and cost-effective for an organization that does not have the resources or expertise to perform it in-house.

However, outsourcing also involves transferring personal information to a third-party provider that may not have the same level of security or accountability as the organization. Therefore, obtaining a certificate of data destruction from the provider is essential to verify that the data destruction has been performed according to the agreed standards and specifications, and that no copies or backups have been retained by the provider. A certificate of data destruction should include information such as: the date and time of the data destruction; the method and level of the data destruction; the serial numbers or identifiers of the devices or media; the name and signature of the person who performed the data destruction; and any relevant laws or regulations that apply to the data destruction.
