Cisco Certified Design Expert (CCDE v3.0) Written Exam Sample Questions (Q184-Q189):

NEW QUESTION # 184
A healthcare provider discovers that protected health information of patients was altered without patient consent. The healthcare provider is subject to HIPAA compliance and is required to protect PHI data. Which type of security safeguard should be implemented to resolve this issue?

- A. technical and physical access control
- B. physical device and media control
- C. technical integrity and transmission security
- D. administrative security management processes

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 185
Over the years, many solutions have been developed to limit control plane state which reduces the scope or the speed of control plane information propagation. Which solution removes more specific information about a particular destination as topological distance is covered in the network?

- A. Back-off timers
- B. Summarization
- C. Layering
- D. Aggregation

Answer: B

Explanation:
Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract of Design Expert (CCDE) Summarization reduces control plane state by abstracting detailed route information. As packets move further away from the destination subnet, the network advertises summarized prefixes instead of individual host or subnet routes, minimizing control plane overhead and routing table size. This helps scale large networks and improves convergence times.
While aggregation and summarization are related, summarization specifically refers to the propagation of route prefixes and their abstraction - making it the precise fit for this question.

NEW QUESTION # 186
A company created an IPv6 adoption plan for its campus network that requires dual-stack connectivity on the network Campus users must have IPv6 connectivity to an HR management application which is the first IPv6-only application hosted in the company s data center. Which two security mechanisms can be used to prevent a malicious user from masquerading as the IPv6 gateway? (Choose two)

- A. IPv6 address glean
- B. port ACLs
- C. IPv6 snooping
- D. IPv6 device tracking
- E. IPv6 RA guard

Answer: A,E

NEW QUESTION # 187
Which two statements describe the functionality of OSPF packet-pacing timers? (Choose two.)

- A. The group-pacing timer controls the interval that is used for group and individual LSA refreshment
- B. OSPF flood-pacing timers allow dynamic control of the OSPF transmission queue size
- C. OSPF retransmission-pacing timers allow control of packet interleaving between nonconsecutive link- state update packets in the OSPF retransmission queue
- D. OSPF flood-pacing timers allow control of interpacket spacing between consecutive link-state update packets in the OSPF transmission queue
- E. OSPF retransmission-pacing timers allow control of interpacket spacing between consecutive link-state update packets in the OSPF retransmission queue

Answer: D,E

Explanation:
OSPF uses pacing timers to control how quickly it sends LSAs to neighbors to prevent network flooding and CPU spikes:
* C. Retransmission-pacing timer: Controls spacing between retransmitted LSAs queued after a lost or unacknowledged transmission.
* E. Flood-pacing timer: Controls spacing between consecutive LSAs when flooding new information to peers.
These timers are critical in scaling OSPF in dense or unstable topologies and are key to tuning control plane convergence performance without destabilizing routers.

NEW QUESTION # 188
Which two impacts of adding the IP event dampening feature to a network design are true? (Choose two.)

- A. It improves overall network stability.
- B. It switches traffic immediately after a link failure.
- C. It reduces the utilization of system processing resources.
- D. It speeds up link failure detection.
- E. It protects against routing loops.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:
IP Event Dampening suppresses route flaps caused by unstable interfaces or links:
* D: By suppressing frequent route flaps, it reduces unnecessary routing updates and reduces CPU utilization and control plane processing.
* E: This suppression stabilizes the overall routing system, especially in large networks where constant recalculation would otherwise occur.
Why other options are incorrect:
* A: It does not directly prevent routing loops.
* B: It intentionally delays re-advertising to ensure stability, not immediate switching.
* C: Detection speed is unaffected; suppression happens after detection.
