Exam topics

There are four work-related domains that an individual must prove his/her expertise in when looking to grow or build out the organization. The topics to learn are listed below:

1. Information Security Governance – 24%

Each section will have the theoretical and practical evaluation of your skill set and knowledge base, and this area is not an exception. The knowledge statement includes the following:

- Knowledge of this field in relation to the objectives and goals of a business;
- Knowledge of using and establishing available methods of reporting in an organization.
- Strength, opportunities, weaknesses, threats, and all the required techniques to develop a successful information security strategy;
- Knowledge of worldwide information security governance and its role in strategy development;
- Knowledge and skills in implementing the methods of information security governance;

The CISM Exam is designed to assess the knowledge and skills of information security professionals who are responsible for managing, designing, and overseeing information security programs in organizations. CISM exam covers four domains: information security governance, risk management, information security program development and management, and information security incident management.
