WGU Cloud Deployment and Operations Sample Questions (Q67-Q72):

NEW QUESTION # 67

(A company manages a containerized application by manually deploying AWS compute instances. Which solution should be used to optimize the cost of the application?)

- A. EFS
- B. Fargate
- C. RDS
- D. Aurora

Answer: B

Explanation:

AWS Fargate should be used to optimize the cost of a containerized application by eliminating the need for manual instance management, as it provides serverless container orchestration that automatically scales and charges only for resource usage. The WGU Cloud Deployment and Operations Study Guide (Section 7.5, Fargate) states, "Fargate optimizes costs for containerized applications by removing the overhead of managing EC2 instances, scaling automatically, and billing based on vCPU and memory usage, reducing manual deployment expenses." Aurora, RDS, and EFS are database or storage solutions not designed for container cost optimization.

NEW QUESTION # 68

(Which service should be used to horizontally scale Amazon EC2 instances?)

- A. Elastic Beanstalk
- B. Elastic network interface
- C. Elastic IPs
- D. Elastic Load Balancing

Answer: D

Explanation:

Elastic Load Balancing (ELB) should be used to horizontally scale Amazon EC2 instances by distributing incoming traffic across multiple instances, improving availability and fault tolerance. ELB works in conjunction with Auto Scaling groups to add or remove instances based on demand. The WGU Cloud Deployment and Operations Study Guide (Section 3.2, Elastic Load Balancing) notes, "Elastic Load Balancing distributes traffic across EC2 instances, enabling horizontal scaling as part of an Auto Scaling group to handle increased load efficiently." Elastic IPs, elastic network interfaces, and Elastic Beanstalk do not provide this scaling functionality.

NEW QUESTION # 69

(What is the advantage of maximizing the time to live of the cache in CloudFront?)

- A. Minimize requests to the origin
- B. Improve security measures
- C. Facilitate a high number of requests
- D. Improve a disaster recovery plan

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Maximizing the time to live (TTL) of the cache in Amazon CloudFront reduces the frequency of requests to the origin server by serving content from edge locations for a longer period, lowering latency and costs. The WGU Cloud Deployment and Operations Study Guide (Section 4.4, CloudFront Caching) states, "A higher TTL in CloudFront caching minimizes origin requests by keeping objects in edge caches longer, reducing load on the origin server and optimizing performance and cost." Facilitating high request volumes, improving disaster recovery, and enhancing security are not primary benefits of maximizing TTL.

NEW QUESTION # 70

(Which Performance Insights view provides information on the hardware resource that may be causing a bottleneck?)

- A. Users
- B. Wait event
- C. Hosts
- D. Statement

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Wait event view in Amazon RDS Performance Insights provides information on hardware resources (e.g., CPU, I/O, memory) that may be causing bottlenecks by showing wait times for database operations. The WGU Cloud Deployment and Operations Study Guide (Section 7.2, Performance Insights) states, "The Wait event view in Performance Insights identifies resource bottlenecks (e.g., I/O wait times) by analyzing wait states, helping optimize database performance on hardware resources." Users, Hosts, and Statement views focus on different aspects and do not directly address hardware bottlenecks.

NEW QUESTION # 71

(A company has implemented multifactor authentication (MFA) for access to its AWS tenant. Which API call is needed to perform MFA before accessing a resource?)

- A. GetCallerIdentity
- B. DecodeAuthorizationMessage
- C. GetFederationToken
- D. GetSessionToken

Answer: D

Explanation:

The 'GetSessionToken' API call is needed to perform MFA before accessing a resource, as it generates temporary security credentials for an IAM user after MFA validation. This ensures secure access to AWS resources. The WGU Cloud Deployment and Operations Study Guide (Section 6.2, IAM and MFA) states,

"The 'GetSessionToken' API is used with MFA to obtain temporary credentials, requiring a valid MFA code to authenticate the user before resource access is granted." GetCallerIdentity, GetFederationToken, and DecodeAuthorizationMessage serve different purposes and do not handle MFA authentication.
