Snowflake SnowPro Core Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q41-Q46):

NEW QUESTION # 41

Which Snowflake privilege is required on a pipe object to pause or resume pipes?

- A. OPERATE
- B. USAGE
- C. READ
- D. SELECT

Answer: A

Explanation:

OPERATE. In Snowflake, to pause or resume a pipe, the OPERATE privilege is required on the pipe object.

The OPERATE privilege allows users to perform operational tasks on specific objects such as pipes, tasks, and streams. Specifically, for a pipe, the OPERATE privilege enables the user to execute the ALTER PIPE ... SET PIPE_EXECUTION_PAUSED=TRUE or ALTER PIPE ... SET PIPE_EXECUTION_PAUSED=FALSE commands, which are used to pause or resume the pipe, respectively.

Here's a step-by-step explanation and reference:

Understanding Pipe Operations: Pipes in Snowflake are used for continuous data loading from staging areas into Snowflake tables.

Managing pipes involves operations such as creating, monitoring, pausing, and resuming.

Privileges for Pipe Operations: The OPERATE privilege is essential for pausing and resuming pipes. This privilege is more specific than general object access privileges like SELECT or USAGE and is tailored for operational control.

Granting the OPERATE Privilege: To grant the OPERATE privilege on a pipe, an administrator or a user with the necessary grants can execute the SQL command:

GRANT OPERATE ON PIPE <pipe_name> TO ROLE <role_name>;
```

Pausing and Resuming Pipes: Once the OPERATE privilege is granted, the user or role can pause the pipe using:

```
ALTER PIPE <pipe_name> SET PIPE_EXECUTION_PAUSED=TRUE;
```

To resume the pipe, they use:

```
ALTER PIPE <pipe_name> SET PIPE_EXECUTION_PAUSED=FALSE;
```

Reference: For more information on pipe operations and privileges, you can refer to Snowflake's official documentation on pipes and security access control: <https://docs.snowflake.com/en/sql-reference/sql/grant-privilege.html> and

<https://docs.snowflake.com/en/user-guide/data-pipelines-intro.html#managing-pipes>

NEW QUESTION # 42

What tasks can be completed using the copy command? (Select TWO)

- A. Columns can be omitted
- B. Columns can be joined with an existing table
- C. Columns can be aggregated
- D. Columns can be reordered
- E. Data can be loaded without the need to spin up a virtual warehouse

Answer: A,D

NEW QUESTION # 43

Which cache type is used to cache data output from SQL queries?

- A. Result cache
- B. Remote cache
- C. Metadata cache
- D. Local file cache

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Result cache is used in Snowflake to cache the data output from SQL queries. This feature is designed to improve performance by storing the results of queries for a period of time. When the same or similar query is executed again, Snowflake can retrieve the result from this cache instead of re-computing the result, which saves time and computational resources.

NEW QUESTION # 44

A virtual warehouse is created using the following command:

```
Create warehouse my_WH with

warehouse_size = MEDIUM

min_cluster_count = 1

max_cluster_count = 1
```

auto_suspend = 60

auto_resume = true;

The image below is a graphical representation of the warehouse utilization across two days.

What action should be taken to address this situation?

- A. Configure the warehouse to a multi-cluster warehouse.
- B. Increase the value for the parameter MAX_CONCURRENCY_LEVEL.
- C. Increase the warehouse size from Medium to 2XL.
- D. Lower the value of the parameter STATEMENT_QUEUED_TIMEOUT_IN_SECONDS.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 45

What can a Snowflake user do to reduce queuing on a multi-cluster virtual warehouse?

- A. Increase the warehouse size.
- B. Use an economy scaling policy.
- C. Convert the warehouse to a Snowpark-optimized warehouse.
- D. Increase the maximum number of clusters.

Answer: D

Explanation:

- * In a multi-cluster virtual warehouse, Snowflake allows you to scale-out by adding more clusters to handle concurrent queries.
- * Increasing the MAX_CLUSTER_COUNT ensures more clusters are dynamically provisioned during high-concurrency periods, reducing queuing.

Why Other Options Are Incorrect:

- * A. Increase warehouse size: Increases compute power for individual queries but does not address concurrency issues.
- * B. Use economy scaling policy: Economy scaling is unrelated to reducing query queuing.
- * D. Convert to Snowpark-optimized warehouse: Snowpark warehouses are designed for ML and Python-based workloads, not for query concurrency.
