CompTIA A+ Certification Exam: Core 2 Sample Questions (Q112-Q117):

NEW QUESTION # 112

A user reports some single sign-on errors to a help desk technician. Currently, the user is able to sign in to the company's application portal but cannot access a specific SaaS-based tool. Which of the following would the technician most likely suggest as a next step?

- A. Reenroll the user's mobile device to be used as an MFA token
- B. Bypass single sign-on by directly authenticating to the application
- C. Reset the device being used to factory defaults
- D. Use a private browsing window to avoid local session conflicts

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

SSO issues are often related to cached session data, cookies, or browser artifacts. The fact that the user can access the company portal but not one specific SaaS tool suggests a session or token problem. Using a private/incognito browsing window allows a clean session to be initiated, which often resolves SSO conflicts.

A: Reenrolling MFA is not related unless access issues stem from failed multifactor authentication.

C: Bypassing SSO may not be possible depending on the SaaS tool and company policies.

D: Factory resetting a device is a last resort and unnecessary in this case.

Reference:

CompTIA A+ 220-1102 Objective 3.3: Troubleshoot common software, application, and OS security issues.

Study Guide Section: Troubleshooting login and authentication issues, especially with SSO services.

NEW QUESTION # 113

Recently, the number of users sharing smartphone passcodes has increased. The management team wants a technician to deploy a more secure screen lock method. Which of the following technologies should the technician use?

- A. Pattern lock
- B. Facial recognition
- C. Device encryption
- D. Multifactor authentication

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Facial recognition is a biometric authentication method that ties access to a unique physical feature of the user. Unlike passcodes or pattern locks—which can be easily shared—facial recognition provides a more secure and non-transferable form of access. It also enhances user convenience and is widely supported by modern smartphones.

A: Pattern locks can still be shared and are less secure.

C: Device encryption protects data but does not prevent screen access if a passcode is shared.

D: Multifactor authentication typically applies to app or account access, not basic phone unlocking.

Reference:

CompTIA A+ 220-1102 Objective 2.2: Compare and contrast common security measures and authentication technologies.

Study Guide Section: Biometric screen lock technologies (e.g., facial recognition, fingerprint)
