NEW QUESTION # 122

The defense mechanism in which unacceptable impulses are moved from awareness back into the unconscious is known as

- A. transference.
- B. regression.

- C. repression.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Repression is a defense mechanism described by Freud in which unacceptable impulses, thoughts, or memories are unconsciously pushed out of conscious awareness into the unconscious mind. Unlike suppression, which is a conscious process, repression happens automatically. "Repression is the primary defense mechanism; unacceptable desires or impulses are banished to the unconscious so they are not consciously experienced." Reference: Helwig, A. A. (2020). CPCE Study Guide and Review; Gladding, S. T. (2018). Counseling: A Comprehensive Profession (8th Edition).

NEW QUESTION # 123

A counselor who comments, "I never notice the color of my client's skin," provides an example of the myth of

- A. proximate generalization.
- B. cultural deficiency.
- C. color blindness.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Claiming to "never notice the color of a client's skin" is an example of the myth of color blindness. This perspective overlooks the significance of race and cultural identity in clients' experiences and can minimize or invalidate their lived realities. Effective multicultural counseling requires acknowledging, understanding, and respecting cultural and racial differences.

NEW QUESTION # 124

"He who has a why to live can bear almost any how." This statement, made by Nietzsche, most closely follows the counseling theory developed by

- A. Mahler.
- B. Frankl.
- C. Perls.

Answer: B

Explanation:

This famous quotation by Nietzsche is closely associated with Viktor Frankl, the founder of logotherapy, which is based on the belief that finding meaning (a "why") is essential for psychological well-being and coping with adversity. Frankl frequently cited this quotation in his writings. "Frankl's logotherapy emphasizes the human search for meaning as the primary motivational force, a concept encapsulated by Nietzsche's statement." Reference: Helwig, A. A. (2020). CPCE Study Guide and Review; Frankl, V. (1984). Man's Search for Meaning.

NEW QUESTION # 125

What cultural implication would a therapist need to be mindful of, when providing services to a Chinese exchange student trying to adjust to life in an American family?

- A. marginalization
- B. discrimination
- C. acculturation

Answer: C

Explanation:

Acculturation refers to the process by which individuals from one culture adjust to and adopt aspects of another culture, often when living in a new country. A therapist must be mindful of the acculturation process, as the student may experience challenges balancing their original cultural identity with the expectations and norms of the American family. "Acculturation is a central concern when individuals from one culture adapt to a new cultural environment, which can impact emotional adjustment and identity." Reference: Helwig, A. A. (2020). CPCE Study Guide and Review; Gladding, S. T. (2018). Counseling: A Comprehensive Profession (8th Edition).

NEW QUESTION # 126

Counselors are ethically permitted to conduct deception studies when

- A. the research subject matter is controversial or sensitive.
- B. there are no feasible alternatives and debriefing is provided.
- C. obtaining informed consent would bias the research results.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Ethically, counselors and researchers may only use deception in studies when there are no feasible alternatives, the study has significant scientific, educational, or applied value, and participants are debriefed as soon as possible after participation. Deception should never be used simply because the subject is controversial or to avoid informed consent without justification.
