NEW QUESTION # 255

Which of the following statements correctly describes the relationship between the strategic plan and the business plan?

- A. The two plans are the output of a single process.
- B. These are two names for the same plan.
- C. The two plans are developed independently.
- D. The strategic plan constrains the business plan.

Answer: D

Explanation:

A strategic plan is a document that outlines the long-term vision, goals, and direction of an organization. It defines the scope and purpose of the organization, identifies the key stakeholders and customers, analyzes the external and internal environment, and sets the strategic priorities and initiatives<sup>1</sup>. A business plan is a document that describes the details of a specific business venture, product, or service. It covers the market analysis, marketing strategy, financial plan, operational plan, and risk assessment<sup>2</sup>. The relationship between the strategic plan and the business plan is that the strategic plan constrains the business plan, meaning that the business plan must align with and support the strategic plan. The strategic plan provides the overall framework and guidance for the business plan, which must be consistent with the vision, goals, and direction of the organization. The business plan must also consider the opportunities and threats identified in the strategic plan, and show how the business venture, product, or service will contribute to the strategic objectives and performance indicators<sup>3,4</sup>. - A. positioning inventory close to the consumer.
- B. using a pull system.
- C. designed to be responsive.
- D. linked through an enterprise resources planning (ERP) system.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Long lead-time items with stable demand are best supported by a supply chain that positions inventory close to the consumer. This reduces the risk of stockouts and improves customer service levels. It also allows the supply chain to buffer against demand variability and supply disruptions. Positioning inventory close to the consumer is a form of postponement strategy, where the final assembly or customization of products is delayed until the customer order is received<sup>1,2</sup>.
