ISTQB CT-PT Exam Syllabus Topics:

Topic	Details
Topic 1	Testing Types in Performance Testing: This section of the exam introduces the distinction between static and dynamic performance testing. It shows how reviews of requirements, architecture, and code can identify risks before coding is complete, and how runtime checks of resource utilization and response times reveal issues that only appear when the system is in operation.
Topic 2	Types of Performance Testing: This section of the exam measures the skills of Software Test Analysts and covers various approaches such as load, stress, scalability, spike, endurance, concurrency, and capacity testing. It explains how each type evaluates system behavior under different conditions, helping testers and stakeholders understand how the system handles both expected and extreme usage scenarios.
Topic 3	The Concept of Load Generation: This section of the exam measures the skills of Software Test Analysts and discusses how representative loads are modeled and produced to simulate user or process behavior. It explores methods such as user interface inputs, crowdsourcing, API-based calls, or protocol capture and playback, emphasizing the need for repeatable loads that accurately reflect real-world conditions.
Topic 4	Common Failures in Performance Testing and Their Causes: This section of the exam measures the skills of Performance Engineers and outlines frequent failure modes, including slow responses at various load levels, degraded performance over time, and system crashes under peak conditions. It provides examples of underlying causes such as resource leaks, insufficient capacity, and poor handling of spikes or concurrency, illustrating why robust planning and monitoring are crucial for reliable performance.

ISTQB Certified Tester - Performance Testing Sample Questions (Q24-Q29):

NEW QUESTION # 24

Which of the following is an advantage of using performance monitoring tools?

- A. They more easily identify and report multi-threading problems.
- B. They can prevent malicious behavior.
- C. They can proactively detect denial-of-service (DoS) attacks.
- D. They proactively compile metrics from server logs.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Performance monitoring tools collect real-time and historical performance data, particularly from server logs, application metrics, and infrastructure monitoring. This allows testers to analyze performance trends efficiently.

Option A is incorrect because monitoring tools do not prevent malicious behavior but may detect it.

Option C is incorrect since identifying multi-threading issues is typically done through profiling tools rather than performance monitors.

Option D is incorrect as DoS attack detection falls under security testing.

NEW QUESTION # 25

You have run a load test. When examining the metrics, you see that the virtual users experienced many timeouts and excessive wait times. The system throughput metrics exceeded expected results, even during peak times. Based on your analysis, what conclusion should you draw?

- A. New test data is needed.
- B. Processing speed is too slow.
- C. Virtual users are exhibiting impatient behavior.
- D. Network infrastructure should be investigated.

Answer: B

Explanation:

If timeouts and excessive wait times occur, but throughput is high, this suggests that the system is unable to process requests fast enough. This points to slow processing speed due to CPU bottlenecks, memory limitations, or inefficient database queries.

Option A (Network infrastructure investigation) would be relevant if throughput was low or variable.

Option C (Impatient virtual users) is irrelevant; virtual users follow scripted behaviors.

Option D (New test data) does not address the core issue.

NEW QUESTION # 26

Which of the following is a best practice to include in performance test scripts when verifying results?

- A. Hold the development team accountable for system performance.
- B. Verify that correct information was added to the database.
- C. Increase the number of scripts executed to provide greater coverage.
- D. Add transaction timers to collect response times.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 27

Why is it important to specify how failures are handled during test execution?

- A. To minimize distractions during testing
- B. To ensure all defects are captured
- C. To ensure that new failures are not introduced
- D. To meet the expectations of the business stakeholders

Answer: C

Explanation:

During performance testing, it is crucial to define failure handling procedures to ensure that failures do not introduce additional errors into the test execution process. This helps maintain test accuracy and avoid misleading results.

Option A (Meeting stakeholder expectations) is important but not the primary reason for defining failure handling.

Option C (Capturing all defects) is a general testing principle, not specific to failure handling in performance tests.

Option D (Minimizing distractions) is not a valid reason for defining failure handling.

NEW QUESTION # 28

At what point during performance testing does monitoring with the load testing tool begin?

- A. Before testing execution.
- B. Immediately after test execution.
- C. When testing is concluded.
- D. Simultaneously with test execution.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Performance monitoring must begin simultaneously with test execution to capture system behavior in real-time. This ensures that bottlenecks and performance issues are identified immediately.

Option A (After testing is concluded) is incorrect because historical monitoring does not help in real-time analysis.
 Option B (Before execution) is incorrect because monitoring needs active system load to measure performance.
 Option C (Immediately after execution) is incorrect because it misses runtime metrics.
