ISQI ISTQB Foundation Level - Acceptance Testing Sample Questions (Q66-Q71):

NEW QUESTION # 66

Which one of the following combinations of given perspective and statement matches BEST?

- A. From a business perspective, the choice of performance test tools strongly depends on the applied test techniques.
- B. From a business perspective, computing power and architecture are major parameters for fine-tuning the system.
- C. From a technical perspective, the number of concurrent user and the types of transactions performed are major elements.
- D. From a user perspective, missing feedback from the system when processing a request it is a problem.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In usability and user experience, system feedback is critical. Users expect clear, timely responses from the system to confirm their actions are received and processed. Lack of feedback (e.g., when clicking a button yields no visual response) leads to confusion, frustration, or repeated actions.

Option B is correct because it highlights a genuine issue from a user's perspective - inadequate feedback, which affects usability and satisfaction.

Other options:

A focuses on technical infrastructure (architecture, computing power) - a technical or business concern, but less so from a user's lens.

C is mostly correct but fits the technical or test engineer's perspective rather than the user's.

D is inaccurate - selection of performance tools is primarily a technical/test management decision, not business-driven.

B). From a user perspective, missing feedback from the system when processing a request is a problem.

NEW QUESTION # 67

Suppose you are testing a new professional exam support system. As input the system takes two grades from two exams. For each exam the possible grade is 0 or 1 point. If the total score is 1, she receives partial entitlements. If the total score is 0, the candidate fails and receives no entitlements.

Entitlements table

1	0	0	No
2	0	1	Partial
3	1	0	Partial
4	1	1	Full

b)

Entitlements table

0	No
1	Partial
2	Full

4	1	1	NO	NO	YES

d)

- B. Option A
- C. Option C
- D. Option B

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 68

Which one of the following statements regarding acceptance criteria is true?

- A. In acceptance test-driven development (ATDD), acceptance criteria replace acceptance tests.
- B. Acceptance criteria specify what shall be tested to verify that a requirement or user story has been implemented correctly.
- C. Acceptance criteria are specific to agile frameworks where they correspond to functional requirements.
- D. Testers should not be involved in writing acceptance criteria to make sure that the test is independent.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 69

You are leading a brand new project team whose members are coming from all over the organization and have no former experience in working together. You need to build a common vision and team spirit. What workshop would fit BEST:

- A. You draw a staircase with 11 steps, each of them representing a major milestone of the project. The bottom of the stairs corresponds to the first day of the project and the upper step means that the project is released. You locate the present situation in the top of the stairs. The team is asked to identify and discuss the major steps downwards.
- B. You invite the team members and ask them to design their own (team-wise) emblem representing their values, beliefs, goals, tasks together than a common motto.
- C. You invite every member in turn to describe his/her past experience and his/her major achievements in the organization or in their former job.
- D. You ask every member in turn to write down three things he/she likes and dislikes in the organization and to post them on a wall. A volunteer is then chosen to read randomly some posts that are then discussed with the group.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive Detailed Explanation (Approx. 200 words):

Building a new team with members from diverse backgrounds requires activities that foster shared values, identity, and trust.

Designing a team emblem with values, goals, and a motto is a well-known team-building technique often used in Agile kick-offs. It engages creativity, sparks discussion about shared purpose, and reinforces a collective team identity.

Option A is correct because it supports both vision and team spirit - crucial for newly formed teams.

Other options:

B focuses on individual backgrounds but may not build a collective vision.

C risks highlighting negative views about the organization and may not foster trust at the early stage.

D uses a "staircase" metaphor but incorrectly locates the team at the top of the stairs - potentially signaling an endpoint rather than a beginning, making it inappropriate for a new team.

A). You invite the team members and ask them to design their own emblem..

NEW QUESTION # 70

What is considered as good practice regarding business process modeling?

- A. Keeping all model element in one diagram considerably improves the readability of BPMN models.
- B. Business analysts should finalize their process models before showing them to acceptance testers.
- C. Links to requirements or risks should be well separated from the workflow description.
- D. BPMN diagrams and DMN tables should include information such as traceability to user stories.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Traceability is a key principle in requirements and test management. It ensures that all features, requirements, and tests are linked and accounted for. Including traceability to user stories in BPMN diagrams or DMN tables supports transparency, auditability, and maintenance.

Option B is correct because embedding or referencing traceability information within business models improves communication across stakeholders, ensures proper test coverage, and helps during change impact analysis.

Let's evaluate other options:

Option A is incorrect. Trying to place all model elements in one diagram can lead to cluttered and unreadable models.

Option C is misleading. While separation of concerns is useful, traceability (links to requirements, risks) should be integrated or closely accessible from the models.

Option D is incorrect. Acceptance testers should be involved early to collaborate and review models. Waiting until models are finalized contradicts agile and ATDD principles.

B). BPMN diagrams and DMN tables should include information such as traceability to user stories.
