AVIXA Certified Technology Specialist Sample Questions (Q14-Q19):

NEW QUESTION # 14

Every item in a room has some acoustic absorption or reflection characteristics. The level of sound absorbed is MOST affected by

- A. relative loudness of the source material.
- B. frequency and direction of the source.
- C. distance from the sound source.
- D. ambient sound in the system location.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The sound absorption characteristics of a material are highly influenced by the frequency and direction of the sound waves. Materials often absorb higher frequencies more effectively, and the angle at which sound waves strike a surface can affect the absorption rate. Distance (Option A) and loudness (Option C) impact perceived sound levels but not absorption properties. Ambient sound (Option B) relates to background noise rather than material absorption.

NEW QUESTION # 15

Which agreement typically includes installation materials and workmanship against failure for a stipulated period after the installation is complete?

- A. Preventive warranty
- B. Service warranty
- C. System warranty
- D. Manufacturer's warranty

Answer: C

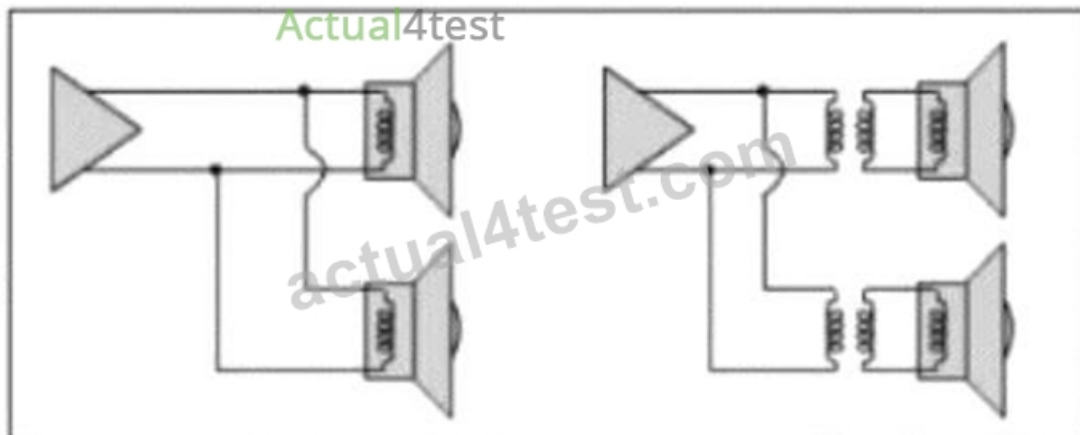

Explanation:

A system warranty is provided by the AV integrator and covers the entire installed system, including materials and workmanship, for a specified period post-installation. This ensures that any issues arising from the installation process are addressed without additional cost to the client.

NEW QUESTION # 16

The circuit on the RIGHT is an electrical drawing of what type of speaker system?

- A. constant voltage
- B. series circuit
- C. combination parallel/series circuit
- D. stereo pair circuit

Answer: C

Explanation:

The circuit on the right is a combination parallel/series circuit. In this configuration, two sets of speakers are connected in parallel, and these parallel sets are then connected in series. This type of arrangement allows for balancing the load across multiple speakers while maintaining the desired impedance levels.

NEW QUESTION # 17

Reverberant sound reaches the listener's ears

- A. synchronized with
D at the same level as the direct sound.
- B. before
- C. after

Answer: C

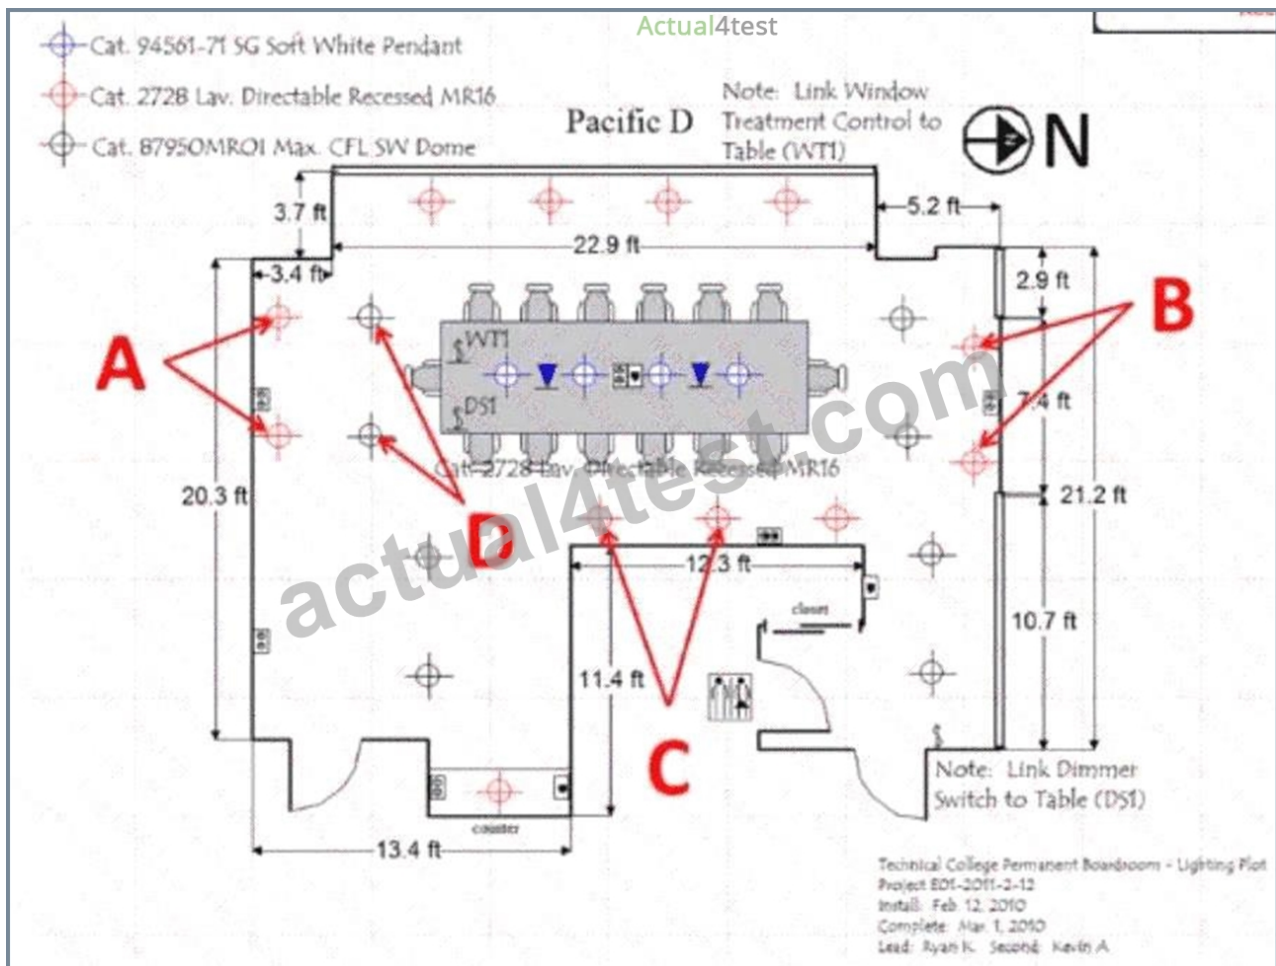

Explanation:

Reverberant sound reaches the listener's ears after the direct sound. This occurs because reverberant sound is reflected off various surfaces within a space, such as walls, ceilings, and floors, before arriving at the listener.

The time delay between the arrival of the direct sound and the reverberant sound contributes to the sense of space and ambience in an environment.

NEW QUESTION # 18

Your client has requested a 50inch monitor be mounted on the south wall of this boardroom. Which two recessed lights will need to be separated into their own zone in order to turn them off when the monitor is on?

- A. D
- B. A
- C. B.
- D. C

Answer: A

Explanation:

For mounting a 50-inch monitor on the south wall of the boardroom, recessed lights labeled as D will need to be separated into their own zone to turn them off when the monitor is on. This will prevent glare and reflections on the screen, ensuring a clear and visible display. Axis Technology Specialist documentation supports the necessity of proper lighting control in AV installations to optimize viewing conditions.
