CompTIA Cloud+ (CV0-004) Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q52-Q57):

NEW QUESTION # 52

A cloud service provider requires users to migrate to a new type of VM within three months. Which of the following is the best justification for this requirement?

- A. The cloud provider will be performing maintenance of the infrastructure.
- B. The equipment is reaching end of life and end of support.
- C. Updates could affect the current state of the VMs.
- D. Security flaws need to be patched.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The best justification for a cloud service provider requiring users to migrate to a new type of VM within a specific time frame is that the equipment is reaching end of life and end of support (EOL/EOS). This means that the older type of VM will no longer receive updates or support, which could include important security patches, so it is necessary to move to newer VM types to maintain security and performance.

NEW QUESTION # 53

A DevOps engineer is integrating multiple systems. Each system has its own API that exchanges data based on different application-level transactions. Which of the following delivery mechanisms would best support this integration?

- A. Queue
- B. Socket
- C. Enterprise service bus
- D. RPC

Answer: C

Explanation:

An Enterprise Service Bus (ESB) is designed to facilitate application integration by providing a centralized architecture for high-level, message-based, and event-driven communication between different systems. It is particularly well-suited for integrating multiple systems with their own APIs because it can handle various data formats and protocols, enabling different applications to communicate with each other seamlessly.

NEW QUESTION # 54

A cloud infrastructure administrator updated the IP tables to block incoming connections and outgoing responses to 104.225.110.203. Which of the following vulnerability management steps is this an example of?

- A. Scanning scope
- B. Identification
- C. Assessment
- D. Remediation

Answer: D

Explanation:

Updating the IP tables to block connections to a specific IP address as a response to vulnerabilities is an example of remediation. Remediation involves taking direct action to fix vulnerabilities, such as by applying patches, changing configurations, or, in this case, updating firewall rules to block potentially harmful traffic.

NEW QUESTION # 55

Which of the following has a mandatory <Envelope> tag in the exchange of data between two systems?

- A. JSON
- B. SOAP
- C. REST
- D. JWT

Answer: B

Explanation:

SOAP uses a structured XML message format, and the <Envelope> element is required because it defines the outer container for the entire message being exchanged between systems.

NEW QUESTION # 56

A cloud administrator is working on the deployment of an e-commerce website. The administrator evaluates the scaling methods to be implemented when seasonal or flash sales are launched.

Which of the following scaling approaches should the administrator use to best manage this scenario?

- A. Load
- B. Scheduled
- C. Trending
- D. Event

Answer: B

Explanation:

Seasonal and flash sales are predictable events, so scaling can be planned to add capacity before the traffic spike and remove it afterward; this aligns with scheduled scaling.

Scheduled scaling policies use predefined time windows (for example, Black Friday, holiday sales) to increase instance counts ahead of expected demand so the site stays responsive when the sale starts.
