Veeam Certified Engineer v12 Sample Questions (Q52-Q57):

NEW QUESTION # 52

In the war against ransomware, a company decided to implement tape backup. The infrastructure contains VMware VMs and physical Windows servers. What is the most efficient approach to getting all servers onto tape?

- A. Create backup jobs, then create backup to tape jobs.
- B. Create backup to tape jobs and write directly to tape.
- C. Create file to tape jobs and write directly to tape.
- D. Create backup jobs, then create file to tape jobs.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The most efficient approach to getting all servers onto tape, considering there are both VMware VMs and physical Windows servers in the infrastructure, is to first create backup jobs that target both the VMs and the physical servers. After these backups are stored on a disk-based repository, you can then create backup to tape jobs. This method leverages Veeam's ability to handle both types of environments and ensures that all data is efficiently backed up to tape for offsite storage and ransomware protection.

NEW QUESTION # 53

What is the primary benefit of configuring replica seeding?

- A. Encrypted WAN traffic
- B. Compressed WAN traffic
- C. Reduced WAN traffic
- D. Deduplicated WAN traffic

Answer: C

Explanation:

The primary benefit of configuring replica seeding in Veeam Backup & Replication is reduced WAN traffic. Replica seeding allows for the initial replica to be created using a backup copy that is transported to the DR site, which significantly reduces the amount of data that needs to be transferred over the WAN during the initial replication process.

Which of the following statements are true when deploying VMware backup proxy server? Choose three options.

- A. The maximum number of concurrent tasks can be configured.
- B. Connected datastores can be configured.
- C. A managed Microsoft Windows server can be used as a backup proxy.
- D. A managed Linux server can be used as a backup proxy.
- E. The vPower NFS root folder location can be configured.

Answer: A,C,E

NEW QUESTION # 55

Which two ways can a Microsoft SQL database be backed up to a Veeam repository using tools native to Microsoft SQL? (Choose two.)

- A. Use application-aware processing for Microsoft SQL.
- B. Use Veeam Agent for Microsoft SQL.
- C. Use Veeam Plug-in for Microsoft SQL.
- D. Use Enterprise Manager's self-service backup capabilities.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

Use the Veeam Plug-in for Microsoft SQL Server

This installs directly into SQL Server Management Studio and leverages SQL's own backup engine (full, differential, log, copy-only, etc.) to write backups straight to your Veeam repositories.

Use application-aware processing for Microsoft SQL

In a standard VM backup job you enable "application-aware processing," which uses Microsoft's VSS writer for SQL Server to quiesce the databases and capture a transactionally-consistent image - those VSS-based backups then land in your Veeam repository.

NEW QUESTION # 56

A new IT director wants to institute best practices for backup management and follow the 3-2-1-1-

0 rule. The company has implemented a secondary off-site immutable copy of their backups to public cloud. What is missing from their strategy?

- A. One backup copy offline
- B. Three copies of data in backup
- C. Backup copies stored on two different media
- D. Automated recoverability testing

Answer: D

Explanation:

The 3-2-1-1-0 rule emphasizes having three copies of data, stored on two different types of media, with one copy off-site, one immutable or air-gapped, and zero errors verified through automated recoverability testing. While the company has implemented a secondary off-site immutable copy, automated recoverability testing is missing. This testing ensures that backups are functional and can be restored without errors, completing the strategy and aligning with best practices.
