Every one of you can test your course of action with Microsoft MB-500 Dumps by giving the phony test. Mock tests are outstandingly worked for you to make heads or tails of your goofs while giving Microsoft MB-500.

To succeed in this certification test and get the passing score, you need to have a good knowledge of the exam content alongside the details it contains. The content is really broad, so you should be ready that you can face with some questions that will not be covered in the topics. All in all, Microsoft MB-500 has the following sections that you need to explore:

- Developing & testing code (10-15%)

This subject area is all about the development of X++ and object-oriented code. Therefore, it is essential to be able to perform the processes that include the implementation of the base operators and types, X++ variable scoping, attribute classes, common structured programming constructs, table, and so on.

- Planning solution & architecture design (10-15%)

In this topic, it is important to know how to identify the major components of Dynamics 365 Finance and Dynamics 365 Supply Chain Management. This subsection includes the evaluation of your understanding of the ways to select the app components as well as architecture that are based on the business components. Also, it covers your skills in preparing and deploying the deployment package, identifying the components of the app stack and map them to the standard models, as well as identifying the architectural differences between the Cloud and on-premises versions of the Finance and Operations applications. The section also includes the area about the design and implementation of a user interface and implementation of Application Lifecycle Management. It covers the details of the Finance and Operations user interface components and layouts, page options, extension models, LCS and their components, DevOps source control process, etc.

- Implementing security & optimizing performance (10-15%)

This last domain will measure your skills in implementing the role-based security policies and requirements, applying the fundamental performance optimization techniques, and optimizing the user interface performance. This means that you need to know how to create and modify permissions, privileges, and duties, diagnose client performance with the use of the Performance Timer or browser-based tools, as well as enforce permissions policy.

- Designing the AOT elements & developing them (20-25%)

This is the only domain that covers about a quarter of the whole list of questions that you will face during your testing session.

It has 4 broad sections that you need to master, and they will test your knowledge of how to create forms, tables, EDT and enumerations, as well as classes and AOT elements.

- Implementing reporting (10-15%)

As for this section, it will measure your level of the knowledge base that includes such areas as the advantages and weak points of reporting tools in Dynamics 365 FO, creation and revision of Dynamics Reports, as well as design of Dynamics workspace. This means that you should be able to implement the reporting security requirements, create the Finance and Operations apps reports with the use of Power BI or Microsoft Excel.

The Microsoft Dynamics 365: Finance and Operations Apps Developer certification exam is divided into various sections, and each section covers a specific topic related to Dynamics 365: Finance and Operations Apps Development. MB-500 Exam includes multiple-choice questions, case studies, and scenarios that measure the candidate's ability to apply their knowledge to real-world scenarios. Passing MB-500 exam requires a thorough understanding of Microsoft Dynamics 365 Finance and Operations Apps Development, and it can be an excellent way to showcase your skills and knowledge in this field. The MB-500 certification is highly recommended for individuals who wish to establish themselves as experts in Dynamics 365: Finance and Operations Apps Development.
