IIA Essentials of Internal Auditing Sample Questions (Q605-Q610):

NEW QUESTION # 605

For a new board chair who has not previously served on the organization's board, which of the following steps should first be undertaken to ensure effective leadership to the board?

- A. Chair should gain an understanding of the needs of key stakeholders.
- B. Chair should learn the current organizational culture of the company.
- C. Chair should determine the appropriateness of the current strategic risks.
- D. Chair should learn the current risk management system of the company.

Answer: A

Explanation:

For a new board chair, the first step to ensure effective leadership involves gaining an understanding of the needs of key stakeholders. This foundational knowledge is critical as it shapes the chair's approach to governance, strategic alignment, and stakeholder engagement, providing a direct line of sight into the expectations and concerns that may influence the organization's direction. NEW QUESTION # 606

An internal audit team received the following feedback from operational management via a post-engagement survey "Management agrees with all audit findings However, the audit team did not consider our input on the best way to resolve the issues" This feedback is an indication that the internal audit activity may need to improve which of the following interpersonal skills?

- A. Influence
- B. Communication
- C. Conflict management
- D. Leadership

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 607

Senior management asks the chief audit executive to review the organization's compliance with recently introduced legislation on international transfer pricing. The review requires an internal auditor who thoroughly understands the legislation and pricing methods. The internal audit activity does not have an auditor with those skills. Which of the following is the most appropriate course of action?

- A. Recruit a lawyer with knowledge of the legislation to the audit team and ask the new auditor to perform the engagement.
- B. Carry out the engagement using existing internal audit staff to help them gain the appropriate experience.
- C. Outsource the engagement to an external audit firm that has appropriate skills.
- D. Decline to perform the engagement, as the internal audit activity does not have the appropriate skill set.

Answer: C

Explanation:

When the internal audit activity does not have the appropriate skills to review the organization's compliance with recently introduced legislation on international transfer pricing, the most appropriate course of action is to outsource the engagement to an external audit firm that has the necessary expertise. This ensures that the review is conducted thoroughly and accurately by professionals with specialized knowledge, maintaining the quality and reliability of the audit work while addressing the specific requirements of the engagement.
