SAP Certified Technology Consultant - SAP S/4HANA System Administration Sample Questions (Q70-Q75):

NEW QUESTION # 70

You want to create an ABAP task list in a development system to transport it to the production system. What must you do?

Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Assign the task list to a customizing transport request.
- B. Assign the task list to a workbench transport request.
- C. Assign the task list to a package
- D. Activate the task list.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

An ABAP task list is a sequence of ABAP tasks that can be executed automatically or manually in an SAP system. An ABAP task can be a function module, a method, or a report that performs a specific action. To create an ABAP task list in a development system and transport it to the production system, you need to do the following:

Assign the task list to a package. A package is a container for development objects that belong to the same application or software component. By assigning the task list to a package, you enable the transport of the task list along with its dependent objects to other systems.

Activate the task list. Activation is the process of generating the executable code and metadata of the task list and storing them in the database. Only activated task lists can be executed or transported to other systems. You do not need to assign the task list to a customizing or a workbench transport request, as these are different types of transport requests that are used for different purposes. A customizing transport request is used to transport configuration changes that are made in the Customizing IMG. A workbench transport request is used to transport development objects that are created or changed in the ABAP Workbench. A task list is neither a configuration change nor a development object, but a sequence of ABAP tasks that can be executed in any system. ### NEW QUESTION # 71

When installing an SAP S/4HANA Server 2021 system, which actions can the Software Provisioning Manager (SWPM) perform only when the installation is started with the option SAPINST_STACK_XML?

Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question.

- A. Set the password of user DDIC in client 000
- B. Set up Transport Management System (TMS)
- C. Install additional languages
- D. Install an SAP Host Agent
- E. Apply a SPAM/SAINT update

Answer: B,C,E

Explanation:

When using the Software Provisioning Manager (SWPM) with the 'SAPINST_STACK_XML' option, specific actions can be performed that are tailored to the requirements defined in the stack.xmlfile. This option allows for the installation of additional languages (B), which is crucial for global organizations requiring support for multiple languages in their SAP S/4HANA system. It also enables the setup of the Transport Management System (TMS) (C), a vital component for managing transports across the SAP landscape, ensuring that changes are propagated correctly and securely. Furthermore, applying a SPAM/SAINT update (D) becomes possible, allowing for the update of the software update manager itself or the implementation of support packages and add-ons, essential for maintaining system stability and accessing new features. The option does not directly influence setting the password of user DDIC in client 000 (A) or installing an SAP Host Agent (E), as these actions are generally part of the standard installation or post-installation tasks.
