- A. Higher than the Design Capacity if workers work to their full potential
- B. Twice the Design Capacity
- C. The same as the Design Capacity as this is determined by the layout of the warehouse
- D. Lower than the Design Capacity

Answer: D

- A. Helmets Ltd employs 76 people
- B. Helmets Ltd turnover last year was £340,000
- C. Helmets Ltd requires machines to run 8 hours per day

Answer: D

Headcount or machine hours are capacity inputs, not capacity measures.

NEW QUESTION # 55

Which of the following are advantages of introducing a Materials Requirements Planning (MRP) system to a business? Select TWO.

- A. Better customer service
- B. Reduced inventory costs
- C. More agile supply chain
- D. Less time spent repairing machines

Answer: A,B

(Reference: CIPS L5M10 Study Guide, Advantages of MRP systems, p. 188)

NEW QUESTION # 57

In a logistics system, if the production rate increases, which of the following is true?

- A. The workload arrival rate increases
- B. The throughput time increases
- C. The waiting rate increases
- D. The workload arrival rate decreases

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

An increase in the production rate generally leads to an increase in the workload arrival rate- the rate at which items or tasks enter the system for processing. This relationship reflects flow interdependence between system inputs and production capacity. The relationship among production rate, throughput rate, and waiting rate is visually represented in logistics process flow diagrams. (Reference: CIPS L5M10 Study Guide, Flow management and capacity relationships, p. 132)
