Archer Certified Administrator-Expert Sample Questions (Q40-Q45):

NEW QUESTION # 40

Failed user login, Access Role Created and Deleted, and password change by user events are viewed in:

- A. Security Events Report
- B. Locked Accounts Report
- C. Access Control Rights by Role Report

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Security Events Report is the primary auditing tool for tracking administrative and sensitive user actions within the Archer platform. According to the Archer Administration II curriculum, this report captures a broad spectrum of "event-based" security data that standard access reports do not cover.

Specifically, it logs every failed login attempt, which is critical for identifying potential brute-force attacks.

It also tracks metadata changes to the security infrastructure, such as when an Access Role is created or deleted, providing an audit trail of who modified the system's permissions. Furthermore, it records password changes initiated by users. While the "Locked Accounts Report" (Option B) only shows users currently barred from the system, the Security Events Report provides the historical context of why those events occurred. It is an essential resource for compliance officers and system auditors to ensure that the integrity of the Archer environment's security configuration remains intact.

NEW QUESTION # 41

Which would be an accurate function(s) description for Archer LDAP Synchronization?

- A. Only creates accounts for new users found on the LDAP server
- B. Updates user profile data and deactivates accounts based on LDAP changes
- C. None of these answer are correct
- D. Only associates Archer users/groups with domain users/groups

Answer: B

Explanation:

In Archer, the LDAP Synchronization process is a comprehensive identity management tool. According to the Archer Administration II curriculum, its primary purpose is to ensure that the Archer user database mirrors the corporate directory (Active Directory/LDAP). It is not limited to just creating accounts or linking groups; its most critical function is the automation of the user lifecycle.

When the sync runs, it checks for changes in the LDAP source. If a user's department or email changes in Active Directory, Archer updates the user profile data accordingly. Most importantly for security, if a user is disabled or removed from the LDAP group/OU being synced, Archer can automatically deactivate the account (or move it to a "terminated" status) based on the "Missing Person" configuration in the LDAP setup.

This prevents unauthorized access by former employees. Options C and D are "Only" statements that describe small portions of the tool's capability, whereas Option B captures the ongoing maintenance and security synchronization that is the hallmark of the Archer LDAP service.

NEW QUESTION # 42

As an Archer administrator, you need to run calculations on Exception Requests daily to see if they have expired and update the Overall Status field accordingly. However, when you enable the Recalculation Schedule for the application, the job is taking a long time to run. What step(s) are recommended to speed up the process?

- A. Update the Overall Status calculation to include an IF statement based on the Expiration Date.

- B. Update the value manually.
- C. Use Data-Driven Events by creating a Set Values List action to update the status and associate it with a rule that evaluates the Expiration Date.
- D. Create a Schedule and use a filter to run the calculation only for those Exception Requests that are Approved.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In the Archer platform, the Recalculation Schedule (found within the application's General Tab) is a powerful tool, but it can become a performance bottleneck if not configured efficiently. When a recalculation job is triggered, the Archer services must evaluate every record in the application to determine if calculations need to be updated. According to the Archer Administration II curriculum, the most effective way to optimize this process is by using Calculation Filters .

By selecting option A, you are instructing the system to ignore records that are irrelevant to the specific business logic (e.g., records that are already "Expired," "Rejected," or "Draft"). By filtering the schedule to run only for "Approved" requests, the job engine processes a significantly smaller subset of data, which reduces the load on the Async Service and speeds up the completion time. Option B would likely slow the system down further by adding logical complexity to the calculation itself. Option C (Data-Driven Events) is not suitable for date-based triggers because DDEs only fire upon a record "Save" event; they cannot proactively "watch" a date to trigger a change without user intervention or a scheduled recalculation.

NEW QUESTION # 43

Which of the following Advanced Workflow nodes allows you to set a timer after which the record is automatically rerouted?

- A. Update Content node
- B. Wait for Content Update node
- C. Send Notification node
- D. User Action node

Answer: B

Explanation:

In the Advanced Workflow Beyond the Basics curriculum, the Wait for Content Update node is identified as the primary tool for time-based automation. While its name suggests it is waiting for a user to change a field, its secondary function is to act as a SLA (Service Level Agreement) timer .

Within the node configuration, an administrator can define an "Escalation" or "Timeout" path. You can set a specific duration (e.g., 5 days). If the expected content update does not occur within that timeframe, the node "times out" and automatically reroutes the record down a secondary transition path-typically to a manager's review or an automated notification. While a User Action node (Option B) can have a "due date," it does not automatically move the record to a different path solely based on time without the Wait for Content Update node logic. Update Content (Option D) and Send Notification (Option A) nodes are instantaneous actions and do not possess the ability to "pause" and monitor for duration.

NEW QUESTION # 44

When Sarah gets to work, she logs into her Windows computer using her username and password. As part of her daily routine, she needs to view some reports inside Archer. How does Sarah access Archer reports without typing her login details again?

- A. By manually entering her credentials
- B. By using a password manager
- C. Through Windows Integrated SSO
- D. With biometric authentication

Answer: C

Explanation:

The scenario described is a classic implementation of Windows Integrated Authentication (WIA) , a form of Single Sign-On (SSO). As detailed in the Archer Installation and Troubleshooting guides, when Archer is configured for Windows Integrated SSO, it leverages the Kerberos or NTLM protocol. Since Sarah has already authenticated to the Windows Domain at the start of her shift, her browser passes her "security token" directly to the Archer web server (IIS).

The Archer Control Panel (ACP) must be configured to recognize the domain, and the user's Archer account must have their Windows account name (e.g., DOMAIN\Username) populated in the "Domain Account" field. This creates a seamless "handshake" that bypasses the Archer login screen entirely. Unlike a password manager (Option C), which still technically "types" the details, or biometrics (Option B), which requires a new physical scan, Windows Integrated SSO provides a passive experience where the existing OS-level authentication is trusted by the application, drastically improving user workflow and productivity.
