Juniper Automation and DevOps, Associate (JNCIA-DevOps) Sample Questions (Q29-Q34):

NEW QUESTION # 29

Exhibit.

Referring to the exhibit, which statement about REST is correct?

- A. The device is configured to allow HTTP connections on port 3030.
- B. The device is configured to allow only two simultaneous REST connections.
- C. The device is configured to allow HTTPS connections on port 3443.
- D. The device is configured to allow connections from the REST API Explorer

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 30

You are asked to develop an on-box Junos script that prevents deletion of the SNMP configuration. Which type of script serves this purpose?

- A. commit script
- B. op script
- C. event script
- D. SNMP script

Answer: A

Explanation:

A commit script in Junos is used to enforce policies and configuration constraints on the device. These scripts are written in Extensible Stylesheet Language Transformations (XSLT) or Python and are executed automatically during the commit process of a configuration change.

In this context, to prevent the deletion of the SNMP configuration, a commit script is the appropriate choice. It can be designed to check the configuration changes being committed and reject any commit that attempts to delete or modify the SNMP configuration. This script essentially acts as a gatekeeper, ensuring that only allowable changes are committed to the device configuration.

Supporting Reference:

Juniper Networks Commit Scripts Documentation: The official Juniper documentation provides examples and use cases of commit scripts, including how they can be used to prevent unauthorized changes to the device configuration.

"Junos Automation Scripting" by Jonathan Looney: This resource gives practical examples and best practices for creating commit scripts to enforce configuration policies in Junos OS.

NEW QUESTION # 31

You want to use a Python package or module.

In this scenario, which statement would accomplish this task?

- A. reap
- B. dir
- C. input
- D. Import

Answer: D

Explanation:

In Python, to use a package or module, you use the import statement. This statement allows you to load a module into your script so that you can use its functions, classes, and variables. For example, if you wanted to use the math module, you would write import math. This makes all the functions and constants in the math module available for use in your program.

Option A (reap), B (dir), and C (input) do not serve the purpose of importing modules. dir is used to list the attributes of an object, input is used to get user input, and reap is not a valid Python command related to importing modules.

Supporting Reference:

Python Documentation on Imports: The Python documentation provides clear guidelines on how to use the import statement to include modules in your Python scripts.

NEW QUESTION # 32

What is an example of correct XML syntax?

- A. <Devices><hostname>vMX1</Devices>/</hostname>
- B. <Devices><hostname>vMX1</Devices>/>
- C. <Device3><hostname>vMX1</hostname></Devices>/>
- D. <Devices><hostname>vMX1</hostname></Device3>/>

Answer: A
