NEW QUESTION # 140

What action will cause the cache associated with compute resources to be dropped?

- A. Decreasing the size of a running standard virtual warehouse
- B. Adding a new standard virtual warehouse that is the same size as a running warehouse
- C. Adding a multi-cluster virtual warehouse that is of a similar size to a running warehouse
- D. Increasing the size of a running standard virtual warehouse

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 141

Which Query Profile metrics will provide information that can be used to improve query performance? (Select TWO).

- A. Remote disk IO
- B. Spillage
- C. Local disk IO
- D. Pruning
- E. Synchronization

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

Two key metrics in Snowflake's Query Profile that provide insights for performance improvement are:

* Remote Disk IO: This measures the time the query spends waiting on remote disk access, indicating potential performance issues related to I/O bottlenecks.

* Pruning: This metric reflects how effectively Snowflake's micro-partition pruning is reducing the data scanned. Better pruning (more partitions excluded) leads to faster query performance, as fewer micro-partitions need to be processed.

These metrics are essential for identifying and addressing inefficiencies in data retrieval and storage access, optimizing overall query performance.

NEW QUESTION # 142

The first user assigned to a new account, ACCOUNTADMIN, should create at least one additional user with which administrative privilege?

- A. USERADMIN
- B. PUBLIC
- C. ORGADMIN
- D. SYSADMIN

Answer: A

Explanation:

The first user assigned to a new Snowflake account, typically with the ACCOUNTADMIN role, should create at least one additional user with the USERADMIN administrative privilege. This role is responsible for creating and managing users and roles within the Snowflake account. References: Access control considerations | Snowflake Documentation

NEW QUESTION # 143

Which Snowflake feature records changes made to a table so actions can be taken using that change data capture?

- A. Task

- B. Pipe
- C. Materialized View
- D. Stream

Answer: D

Explanation:

Snowflake's Streams feature is specifically designed for change data capture (CDC). A stream records insert, update, and delete operations performed on a table, and allows users to query these changes. This enables actions to be taken on the changed data, facilitating processes like incremental data loads and real-time analytics. Streams provide a powerful mechanism for applications to respond to data changes in Snowflake tables efficiently.

NEW QUESTION # 144

The following JSON is stored in a VARIANT column called src of the CAR_SALES table:

A user needs to extract the dealership information from the JSON.
How can this be accomplished?

- A. select src:Dealership from car_sales;
- B. select src:dealership from car_sales;
- C. select dealership from car_sales;
- D. select src.dealership from car_sales;

Answer: D

Explanation:

In Snowflake, to extract a specific element from a JSON stored in a VARIANT column, the correct syntax is to use the dot notation. Therefore, the query select src.dealership from car_sales; will return the dealership information contained within each JSON object in the src column.

References: For a detailed explanation, please refer to the Snowflake documentation on querying semi-structured data.
