CBCI Exam (For use in studying the Good Practice Guidelines and passing your CBCI exam) Good Luck.

Initial BIA Objectives Answer- Develop framework for further analysis
Clarify BCM Program scope

(may combine strategic, tactical, and operational BIA tasks)

Strategic BIA Objective Answer- Identify and prioritize organization's products and services
Determine org's MTPDs (recovery timescales) and MBCOs (disruption tolerance levels)
Clarify/review BCM program scope (re: products/services)

Tactical BIA Objective Answer- Determine process(es) required for delivering most urgent products/services
Assess impact of disruption to required processes

Operational BIA Objective Answer- Identify and prioritize activities (at operational level) that contribute to the identified processes for delivering most urgent products/services
Determine resources required for activity continuity/recovery
Collect detailed resource requirements (may be higher than normal to cope with backlog)—inc. supplier dependencies

Tactical BIA Process Answer- For processes (i.e. often cuts across many departments/business units)

Identify process owner
Determine BIA scope (product/service group under consideration)
Identify dependencies for processes delivering most urgent products/services
Quantify each process' MTPD (using those of the group as a guide)
Establish RTOs and RPOs
Process owner approves accuracy
Obtain support from Top Mgmt
Publish results

Operational BIA Process Answer- Similar to Tactical BIA, BUT focus is on individual activities
Could be at the departmental or single business unit level

Identify/prioritize activities
Quantify required resources

BCI Certificate of the Business Continuity Institute (CBCI) Sample Questions (Q165-Q170):

NEW QUESTION # 165

Which type of review provides an evaluation of the Business Continuity Management System (BCMS) outputs against the requirements or expectations to determine whether Business Continuity is incorporated into every task undertaken through the BCMS?

- A. Quality Assurance (QA)
- B. External Audit
- C. Performance Appraisal
- D. Post-incident Review

Answer: A

Explanation:

The CBCI 7.0 course identifies Quality Assurance (QA) reviews as evaluations that assess whether BCMS processes and outputs meet defined standards and requirements. QA examines whether Business Continuity principles and practices are effectively embedded into organizational tasks and workflows. Unlike performance appraisals (individual focus) or post-incident reviews (event focus), QA provides systematic assurance that Business Continuity is integrated consistently and effectively throughout the BCMS lifecycle.

External audits verify compliance but QA focuses on continuous process improvement.

NEW QUESTION # 166

The Process Business Impact Analysis (BIA):

- A. Is conducted prior to the Product and Services BIA
- B. Identifies resource requirements and interdependencies
- C. Excludes processes that have been outsourced
- D. Is optional and may be omitted

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Process BIA focuses on understanding internal processes, their resource needs, and dependencies that impact the delivery of products and services. The CBCI 7.0 course underlines that this BIA level identifies critical resources, interdependencies among activities, and potential bottlenecks. It complements Product and Service BIAs by providing detailed operational insights necessary for designing effective recovery strategies.

Processes outsourced to third parties are typically included to ensure a complete picture. This analysis is a core component of the BIA framework and is not optional.

NEW QUESTION # 167

In relation to a disruption to activities, the Minimum Business Continuity Objective (MBCO):

- A. Should be the Recovery Time Objective (RTO)
- B. Is the point set by top management for mobilizing response teams
- C. Is the point identified in the risk assessment when risks have been successfully mitigated
- D. Should be attained either at the same time, or after, the RTO

Answer: D

Explanation:

The CBCI 7.0 course defines the Minimum Business Continuity Objective (MBCO) as the minimum level of services or outputs that must be maintained or restored to avoid unacceptable consequences. The MBCO is achieved either simultaneously with or after the Recovery Time Objective (RTO), as the RTO specifies when recovery should be complete for prioritized activities. MBCO sets a baseline for continuity, focusing on critical minimum outputs, rather than risk assessment milestones or managerial mobilization decisions. Understanding this sequencing supports realistic and measurable recovery planning.

NEW QUESTION # 168

Why is it important to use a warning or code word such as "exercise only" when providing communication injects during an exercise?

- A. To ensure that the information is not treated as a real message
- B. To indicate that all information should be treated as real during the exercise
- C. To indicate that the message has been approved by the exercise facilitator
- D. To ensure that the information is treated as confidential

Answer: A

Explanation:

In BC validation and exercising, "injects" are simulated messages used to drive decisions and actions. Using a clear code word (e.g., "For exercise" / "Exercise only") is essential to prevent simulated information being mistaken for a real incident notification-especially when exercise communications travel through normal channels (phone, radio, email, chat). This protects people, avoids unnecessary escalation, and prevents operational disruption caused by staff believing a real emergency is underway. Exercise guidance commonly defines "For Exercise" as a preamble meaning the message relates to the exercise only and "is not to be confused with real activity," and recommends prefixing simulated calls/messages accordingly.

Therefore, option A is correct.

Option B (confidentiality) is not the main purpose of the code word; confidentiality is handled through exercise ground rules and distribution controls. Option C is not what the code word signifies. Option D is the opposite of the intent-while participants should act realistically within the exercise play, the code word ensures everyone understands the scenario is simulated, preventing real-world misinterpretation and unintended consequences.

NEW QUESTION # 169

Which type of exercise is always carried out in the normal operational environment, alternative premises, or command centres and is designed to include everyone that could be involved in the response if the incident were real?

- A. Live
- B. Scenario
- C. Discussion-based
- D. Simulation

Answer: A

Explanation:

The CBCI 7.0 course describes live exercises as the most comprehensive type of Business Continuity exercise. These are conducted in actual or alternate operational environments, including command centres, to simulate real incident conditions as closely as possible. Live exercises involve all personnel who would participate in an actual incident response, testing systems, processes, communication, and physical infrastructure. Their scope, realism, and inclusiveness help identify practical issues that other exercise types may miss. They require significant resources and planning but provide critical assurance of organizational preparedness under authentic conditions.
