Epic EDI101 Bridges Interfaces Exam Questions and Answers 2024

Does every HL7 message have to be encoded with the characters 1A- & ? - answer✓✓No, the encoding characters can be any printable character.

Imagine that your message begins with MSH1A&1. How would you encode the string "Th result is positive & has a value of 2.7 x 10A3."? - answer✓✓The result is positive \T has a value of 2.7 x 10\5\3.

Why is the NTE segment special? - answer✓✓Context; its meaning depends on the segment it follows

What is the difference between receiving an empty field |I and the delete sequence ? - answer✓✓An empty field is ignored by the interface, whereas the delete character will delete information from the database, assuming the field in question supports the delete character.

Aside from HL7 Version 2, name two other standards supported in Bridges? - answer✓✓X12, FHIR, NCPDP, DICOM, and Direct.

What is Bridges? - answer✓✓Epic's interfacing messages along with the application. It consists of both the interface infrastructure to build, send, receive, and file messages along with the tools and utilities to maintain those interfaces

What are stored in the Event Queue, Data Queue, and Control Queue? - answer✓✓The Event Queue contains the information needed to build a message. Usually this is a patient ID, an encounter DAT, and the type of message to be built, amongst other information.

The Data Queue contains the text of HL7 messages and additional metadata.

The Control Queue is a to-do list of message numbers to send or file.

Are messages ever manually deleted from the Data Queue? - answer✓✓No, never. They are purged only by an automated purge job.

What are two ways that interface messages are sent and received? - answer✓✓TCP/IP with an interface engine is the most common communication method. Interconnect is used for HTTPS or other communication outside your local network.

EPIC CEE: Bridges Interfaces Application Essentials Exam (2026 Version)

Sample Questions (Q24-Q29):

NEW QUESTION # 24

When performing Duplicate Prevention, what type of record is used to determine the high and low thresholds?

- A. Identity Patient Duplicate
- B. Bridges Duplicate Checker
- C. Bridges Duplicate Configuration
- D. Identity Duplicate Configuration

Answer: D

Explanation:

Duplicate Prevention logic is shared across the Epic platform through the Identity Duplicate Configuration (IDC) record. This record defines the scoring logic and the high and low thresholds used to determine if a patient being created by an interface is a definite match to an existing record, a potential duplicate that needs review, or a completely new patient. Bridges leverages these enterprise-wide Identity settings to ensure consistency in how duplicates are handled.

NEW QUESTION # 25

How can incoming interfaces determine the ID type to use when looking up a record? (SELECT ALL THAT APPLY)

- A. Find any record with the received ID and choose an associated ID type
- B. Incoming interfaces do not need to lookup an ID type
- C. Use a default ID type specified on the interface
- D. Match the ID type identifiers from the message to the External System Settings section of the ID Type configuration

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

Incoming interfaces must identify the correct ID Type to successfully locate a record in Chronicles. They do this in two primary ways:

- * Default ID Type: The interface can be configured with a fallback ID type to use if no other information is provided.
- * External System Settings: The interface can look at identifiers within the HL7 message (like the Assigning Authority in PID-3.4) and match them against the "External System Settings" defined in the ID Type configuration. Option C is incorrect because searching without a defined ID type would be inefficient and could lead to incorrect record matches.

NEW QUESTION # 26

Which of the following conditions could prevent you from being able to skip a message?

- A. The message is an incoming message
- B. The message is waiting for a record lock
- C. The message has been processed
- D. The message was resubmitted

Answer: C

Explanation:

"Skipping" a message is a corrective action used to move a message out of the processing queue when it is blocking other messages or contains data that should not be filed. If a message has already been processed (successfully filed or completed its lifecycle), it is no longer in the active queue to be skipped. You can only skip messages that are currently in a "waiting" or "error" status within the active queues.

NEW QUESTION # 27

Table translations can be either case sensitive or not case sensitive.

- A. True

- B. False

Answer: A

Explanation:

Bridges provides a configuration toggle for Case Sensitivity within translation tables. This is crucial because some external systems might send values like "M" and "m" interchangeably, while others might use case to distinguish between two different codes. Setting this correctly ensures that the interface accurately matches the incoming string to the intended internal value.

NEW QUESTION # 28

What segments are defined as custom in HL7 version 2?

- A. NTE
- B. X-segment
- C. PID
- D. Z-segment

Answer: D

Explanation:

HL7 provides a standard set of segments (like PID for Patient Identity or MSH for Message Header).

However, to allow for site-specific data that doesn't fit into standard segments, HL7 reserves the letter "Z" for custom segments. Any segment starting with "Z" (e.g., ZPV, ZCD) is considered a local, non-standard extension defined by the specific healthcare organization or vendor.
