Oracle Order Management Cloud Order to Cash 2025 Implementation Professional Sample Questions (Q124-Q129):

NEW QUESTION # 124

Your customer is using Oracle Social Network for Order Management. They claim a conversation is being created for every order in the system, and that this is not required for automated order fulfillment.

What can be changed so that Oracle Social Network only creates conversations for sales orders that need them?

- A. Remove access from users for certain orders that do not require conversations.
- B. When enabling the Sales Order object for Oracle Social Network, use the automatic mode.
- C. Disable the Sales Order object for Oracle Social Network.
- D. When enabling the Sales Order object for Oracle Social Network use the manual mode.
- E. Turn off all conversations in Oracle Social Network.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Create social conversations only for conversations that the Order Entry Specialist manually initiates for each sales order. It is strongly recommended that you choose Manual.

NEW QUESTION # 125

Your customer wants to use Oracle Integration Cloud Service with Order Management to communicate business events. Select the option that shows the correct order in which the steps should be executed.

- A. Create an integration, create a connection, and track business events.
- B. Track business events, manage business event trigger points, and create an integration.
- C. You cannot use Oracle Integration Cloud service with Order Management to communicate business events.
- D. Manage business event trigger points, create a connection, create an integration, and track business events.
- E. Manage business event trigger points, create an integration, create a connection, and track business events.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 126

NEW QUESTION # 127

Your customer wants to prohibit updates to the "Subcontractor License No" field in a fulfillment line after a fulfillment line is closed. The "Subcontractor License No" field is a context-based extensible flexfield in the fulfillment line.

Identify the correct sequence of steps for setting up the preceding constraint.

- A. Enable the extensible #exfield > Create a validation rule set > Create the processing constraint.
- B. Create a constraint entity > Enable the extensible flexfield > Create a validation rule set > Create a record set > Create a processing constraint.

- C. Enable the extensible flexfield > Create a validation rule set > Create a record set > Create the processing constraint.
- D. Create a constraint entity > Enable the extensible flexfield > Create a record set > Create a validation rule set > Create a processing constraint.
- E. Enable the extensible flexfield > Create a record set > Create a validation rule set > Create the processing constraint.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Extensible flexfields are not available on the Attributes menu of the Record Sets tab.

To constrain the changes that a user can make in an extensible flexfield, do the following work:

1. Enable the extensible flexfield.
2. Create a validation rule set.
3. Create a processing constraint.

NEW QUESTION # 128

You have a requirement to configure a different user interface (UI) depending on the user accessing it.

For one hosting application, you want a full-featured interface where users can select all options. These users have product knowledge and, therefore, do not need to be guided as much.

For the other hosting application, you want a more guided interface that takes the users through each step and hides some of the product details that may be confusing.

How can you do this?

- A. By building two separate user interfaces and for each UI and selecting the corresponding application under Applicability Parameters in the user interface setup
- B. By building this using different languages; for example, you can have the first hosting application to provide access by using American English and the second hosting application to provide access by using British English
- C. By doing nothing. You cannot have more than one UI based on different applications that are accessing it. All users will have to use the more simplified method.
- D. By using Dynamic Tree Navigation and making the first question that users are prompted with to be related to the interface that they want to use
- E. By building a Configurator rule that shows different options based on the application that is accessing

Answer: A

Explanation:

By building two separate user interfaces and for each UI and selecting the corresponding application under Applicability Parameters in the user interface setup.

This answer is correct because it allows you to create different user interfaces for different hosting applications, and control the visibility and behavior of each UI based on the applicability parameters. You can use the User Interface Setup task in the Setup and Maintenance work area to create and manage user interfaces for Oracle Order Management Cloud Order to Cash1.

The other answers are incorrect for the following reasons:

* By building this using different languages; for example, you can have the first hosting application to provide access by using

American English and the second hosting application to provide access by using British English: This answer is incorrect because using different languages does not change the user interface design or functionality. It only changes the language of the labels and messages that are displayed to the user.

* By doing nothing. You cannot have more than one UI based on different applications that are accessing it. All users will have to use the more simplified method: This answer is incorrect because you can have more than one UI based on different applications that are accessing it. You can use the applicability parameters to specify the hosting application for each UI, and the order of precedence to determine which UI to display when there are multiple matches1.

* By using Dynamic Tree Navigation and making the first question that users are prompted with to be related to the interface that they want to use: This answer is incorrect because Dynamic Tree Navigation is a feature that enables you to create a guided selling experience for configurable products. It does not allow you to create different user interfaces for different hosting applications2.

* By building a Configurator rule that shows different options based on the application that is accessing:

This answer is incorrect because Configurator rules are used to define the logic and constraints for configurable products. They do not allow you to create different user interfaces for different hosting applications3.
