ISTQB Certified Tester Advanced Level - Test Manager Sample Questions (Q50-Q55):

NEW QUESTION # 50
Which of the following is required to apply an experience-based testing approach"

- A. A full risk-assessment to support risk prioritization
- B. Detailed requirements
- C. Tester knowledge of the system and its usage
- D. Usage models

Answer: C

Explanation:

Experience-Based Testing:
This testing approach relies on the testers' knowledge, experience, and intuition about the system and its usage rather than formal requirements or models.
It is often used when documentation is incomplete or time constraints limit more structured approaches.
Evaluation of Options:
A (Detailed requirements) and B (Usage models) are associated with structured testing techniques.
C is correct as experience-based testing depends on the testers' understanding of the system.
D (Full risk assessment) supports risk-based testing, not experience-based testing.
Reference and Syllabus Alignment:
Experience-based testing is detailed under "Test Techniques" (TM-1.4.1) in the ISTQB syllabus.

NEW QUESTION # 51

What is a "depth-first" risk-based testing technique?

- A. Lowest risk test cases are executed first
- B. Non-functional test cases are executed first
- C. All risk items are tested at least once
- D. Highest risk test cases are executed first

Answer: D

Explanation:
A depth-first risk-based testing technique is a method of prioritizing and executing test cases based on the risk level of the features or functions to be tested. In this technique, the test cases with the highest risk are executed first, followed by the test cases with lower risks. This ensures that the most critical and likely areas of failure are tested thoroughly and early in the testing process. NEW QUESTION # 52

Which of the following would you least expect to form part of the analysis of initial tool costs? 1 credit

- A. Evaluation of suitable tools
- B. Integration with other tools
- C. Learning time required to use the new tool
- D. Tool portability

Answer: D

Explanation:
Topic 4, Scenario 4, V2 "Test Management Tool"
The project situation after 11 months is:
The first increment was released one week late but contained sufficient functionality to be declared fit for purpose'. However, there were 20 outstanding incidents deferred to increment two.
The amount of voluntary overtime worked PV the test team has reduced the second Increment slippage to just 3 weeks.
-There is talk of reducing the scope of requirements. The purpose of this is to first deliver the application with support for manual testing and then to provide a delivery * weeks later to resolve any remaining points and provide support for automated testing (i.e. the link to the capture-replay tool).
-Concerns have been expressed by a section of the user community, that in some places the usability is very poor.

NEW QUESTION # 53

In general, why is it NOT a good idea to estimate the testing effort based only on a percentage of development effort? Identify THREE valid reasons. 1 credit

- A. The percentage based technique only applies to the V life cycle model.

- B. In general bottom-up estimation is always better than top-down estimation.
- C. It builds on large set of historical data
- D. The maturity of the organization, e.g. the quality of the test basis, quality of development testing, configuration management, availability of test tools, also influence the effort needed for testing.
- E. The quality of the development estimate may be poor.
- F. The result is almost always a too low estimate for the required test effort
- G. Using the same percentage every time does not address the level of risk of the application to be tested.

Answer: D,E,G

NEW QUESTION # 54
Your test process is fully integrated into the software development lifecycle. You are at which TMMi level?
[1]

- A. Initial
- B. Optimized
- C. Defined
- D. Managed

Answer: C

Explanation:
According to the TMMi model, the test process is fully integrated into the software development lifecycle at the Defined level. This level establishes that all projects are following the same standards and procedures throughout the organization or organizational unit. Test is integrated into the development life cycle and into all projects from early in development. TMMi ModelTMMi Introduction References:
