SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition - Production Planning and Manufacturing Sample Questions (Q48-Q53):

NEW QUESTION # 48
Why would you use phantom assemblies? Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question.

- A. To reduce the number of changes required in bills of material
- B. To simplify the structure of bills of material
- C. To reduce the number of material masters
- D. To make the assignment of components easier
- E. To increase the number of planning levels

Answer: A,B,D

Explanation:
Phantom assemblies in SAP S/4HANA (special procurement type 50, material master MRP 2 viewor BOM item) are virtual components not physically stocked-their BOM is exploded directly into the higher-level assembly. Benefits include:
* To simplify the structure of bills of material(A): By treating a group of components as a phantom (e.g., a kit), the BOM avoids an extra level of assembly, reducing complexity in planning and documentation (e.g., one BOM level instead of two).
* To reduce the number of changes required in bills of material(B): Changes to a phantom's components (CS02) automatically propagate to all higher-level BOMs using it, minimizing maintenance effort compared to updating separate subassembly BOMs.
* To make the assignment of components easier(D): In production orders (CO01), phantom components are directly assigned to the parent operation, simplifying goods issue and confirmation by eliminating subassembly steps.
To reduce the number of material masters(C) is incorrect-phantoms still require a material master with type (e.g., HALB) and procurement key 50, so the count remains unchanged.To increase the number of planning levels(E) is false-phantoms reduce planning levels by bypassing subassembly production. This is per SAP's phantom assembly usage.

NEW QUESTION # 49
Which business processes are affected by settings in the order type-dependent parameters? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Define integration with cost accounting.
- B. Select master data.
- C. Check material availability.
- D. Schedule production orders.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:
In SAP S/4HANA, order type-dependent parameters (configured in Customizing via Production > Shop Floor Control > Master Data > Define Order Type-Dependent Parameters, transaction OPL8) control key aspects of production order processing for a specific plant and order type. These settings affect:
* Select master data(C): The parameters determine how master data (e.g., BOM, routing) is selected during order creation. For example, the "Production Version" field specifies whether a version is mandatory or optional, and the "BOM Application" influences which BOM is chosen (e.g., production- specific). This ensures the correct master data is pulled into the order.
* Define integration with cost accounting(D): The parameters include settings like "Costing Variant" (Planned and Actual) and "Results Analysis Key," which dictate how costs are calculated and posted to the order. These integrate production orders with Controlling (CO), affecting cost object controlling processes.
Schedule production orders(A) is influenced by scheduling parameters (e.g., in OPKP), not directly by order type-dependent parameters, which focus on order creation and execution settings.Check material availability (B) is controlled by the "Availability Check" field in these parameters, but it's a subset of broader order processing, not the primary process affected-master data and costing are more directly tied to the configuration. This is per SAP's production order configuration documentation.

NEW QUESTION # 50
What determines whether the planned independent requirements in dem management are consumed by other requirements? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Requirements type
- B. Order type
- C. Requirements profile
- D. Planning strategy

Answer: A,D

NEW QUESTION # 51

- A. Work center
- B. Plant
- C. Material
- D. Production version

Answer: A,C

NEW QUESTION # 52
What are the prerequisites for a reporting point confirmation in repetitive manufacturing? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Defining the relevant work centers in the routing
- B. Activating the reporting point backflush in the order dependent parameters
- C. Defining the operations as reporting points using the control key
- D. Activating the reporting point backflush in the work centers
