- A. equality
- B. confidentiality
- C. governance
- D. prudence

Answer: B

Explanation:

Confidentiality ensures sensitive information obtained during valuation processes is protected against unauthorized disclosure, preserving trust and compliance with legal requirements. If in-kind shares are provided when the fund is founded; if the subscription fails and there is no special agreement, who would bear the expenses?

- A. Auditors
- B. Share providers
- C. Evaluators
- D. Founders

Answer: D

Explanation:

According to CISI UAE Financial Rules and Regulations, when in-kind shares are provided at fund inception and the subscription fails, the founders bear the related expenses in the absence of any special agreement. This allocation reflects the founders' responsibility in establishing and capitalizing the fund and absorbing initial setup costs, including those related to failed subscriptions. Share providers, auditors, or evaluators are not typically liable for such expenses unless contractual terms explicitly assign such responsibility. This regulatory stance encourages clarity and accountability in fund founding arrangements.

- D. AED 30 million

Answer: B

This capital requirement ensures that firms in this category have sufficient financial resources to manage the risks associated with their operations, which include handling clients' assets, ensuring compliance with financial regulations, and absorbing potential operational or financial losses. Answer: C

Such firms must make these procedures available to clients on request, ensuring transparency and accessibility without imposing undue burden on clients or firms. The regulatory framework does not mandate automatic distribution within fixed timeframes upon client acceptance or complaint receipt but emphasizes accessibility and prompt responsiveness when clients seek the information. This approach balances operational feasibility and client rights to be informed about how their complaints will be managed. Providing the procedure upon request also fosters a trust-based relationship and helps resolve disputes effectively.
