NEW QUESTION # 241

You have a Microsoft SQL Server 2017 server that hosts five databases.

You Plan to migrate the databases to Azure.

You need to recommend a solution that meets the following requirements:

Automatically scales compute based on the workload demand

Provides per-second billing

What should you include in the recommendation? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.

Answer:

NEW QUESTION # 242

You have an on-premises datacenter that contains a 2-TB Microsoft SQL Server 2019 database named DB1.

You need to recommend a solution to migrate DB1 to an Azure SQL managed instance. The solution must minimize downtime and administrative effort.

What should you include in the recommendation?

- A. SQL Data Sync
- B. log shipping
- C. transactional replication
- D. Log Replay Service (LRS)

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 243

You need to design an analytical storage solution for the transactional data. The solution must meet the sales transaction dataset requirements.

What should you include in the solution? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

Box 1: Hash

Scenario:

Ensure that queries joining and filtering sales transaction records based on product ID complete as quickly as possible.

A hash distributed table can deliver the highest query performance for joins and aggregations on large tables.

Box 2: Round-robin

Scenario:

You plan to create a promotional table that will contain a promotion ID. The promotion ID will be associated to a specific product.

The product will be identified by a product ID. The table will be approximately 5 GB.

A round-robin table is the most straightforward table to create and delivers fast performance when used as a staging table for loads.

These are some scenarios where you should choose Round robin distribution:

* When you cannot identify a single key to distribute your data.
* If your data doesn't frequently join with data from other tables.
* When there are no obvious keys to join.
