NEW QUESTION # 273

Rank in order, from first to last, the sequence of steps a team should take to build a house of quality.

* Develop a relationship matrix

- * Identify the technical requirements
- * Capture the voice of the customer
- * Determine the target values

- A. 3, 4, 2, 1
- B. 2, 3, 4, 1
- C. 3, 2, 1, 4
- D. 2, 3, 1, 4

Answer: C

Explanation:

The correct answer is C. 3, 2, 1, 4 . The CSSBB source explains that QFD, or the house of quality , begins with the customer needs or wants on the left side of the house. The design features and requirements are then identified as the technical response on the top of the house, and the primary matrix is the relationship matrix between customer needs and design features. Finally, the foundation contains the target values .

That sequence means the team must first capture the voice of the customer so it knows what the customer wants. Next, it must identify the technical requirements that can respond to those needs. Then the team develops the relationship matrix to connect customer requirements to technical features. After that, the team can determine the target values for the technical characteristics. This order is fully aligned with the structure of the house of quality shown in the CSSBB material. Therefore, the correct sequence is 3, 2, 1, 4 , which corresponds to option C .
