Appian Associate Developer Sample Questions (Q32-Q37):

NEW QUESTION # 32

Which statement about local variables is valid?

- A. The data type of a local variable is determined by its value.
- B. Local variables can only store primitive data types, such as numbers and strings.
- C. Local variables must have an initial value set when defining them.

Answer: A

Explanation:

In Appian, the data type of a local variable is inferred from the value it is set to. Unlike some other programming languages where the data type must be explicitly declared, Appian determines the data type automatically based on the initial value assigned to the local variable. Local variables in Appian are quite flexible and can store various types of data, including complex data types, not just primitive ones.

NEW QUESTION # 33

You select the "Generate groups and folders to secure and organize objects" option while creating a new application, Acme, with the prefix ACM.

By default, which two groups are generated by Appian? (Choose two.)

- A. ACM Administrators
- B. ACM Designers
- C. ACM Users
- D. ACM Viewers

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

When creating a new application in Appian and opting to generate groups and folders for organization and security, Appian automatically creates specific groups to facilitate application development and management.

The default groups include "Administrators" and "Designers" with the application prefix, in this case, ACM. The ACM Administrators group is intended for users who will have full control over the application, including configuration and deployment aspects. The ACM Designers group is designated for users primarily involved in the design and development of the application, granting them necessary permissions to create and modify application components without full administrative privileges.

NEW QUESTION # 34

You are configuring a Related Action for an entity-backed record type.

What is the proper domain prefix to reference the record data that will be passed into the Process Model as context for the Record Action?

- A. ac!
- B. pv!
- C. rv!

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 35

You need to pass data into a process from other parts of your Appian application.

Which configuration is required in your process model?

- A. Toggle the Parameter field to ' True ' on the configuration of a process variable.
- B. Create process variables on the Data Management tab of Process Model Properties.
- C. Add an interface as a Process Start Form.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 36

You created an expression rule that was deployed to production on January 12, 2022.

The object has "form type" as a rule input, as well as several other rule inputs for characteristics describing the logged in user. Given values for these inputs, the rule returns a set of form instructions for the specified type of form as applicable to the logged in user.

What is the most important action to take with regards to the object description?

- A. Set an object description that reads: "Returns a set of form instructions to display, given the type of form and characteristics of the logged in user".
- B. Save a rule input of type 'text' for the object called 'objectDescription', and set a text value that generally describes the object such that other developers could quickly gain understanding of the object' s purpose.
- C. Set an object description that includes any notes you may need if you were to become responsible for providing Production Support on that area of the application in the future. You should also include "BP - 1/12/2022 - Created" somewhere in the description.

Answer: A
