VMware vDefend Security for VCF 5.x Administrator Sample Questions (Q64-Q69):

NEW QUESTION # 64

In vDefend Malware Detection and Prevention, when does local file analysis occur?

- A. Before Cloud file analysis and before hash comparison
- B. After Cloud file analysis and after hash comparison
- C. After Cloud file analysis and before hash comparison
- D. Before Cloud file analysis and after hash comparison

Answer: D

Explanation:

The vDefend malware detection pipeline operates in a highly optimized sequence to minimize performance overhead and network bandwidth. When a file is extracted, the first step is to check its hash against a cache of known good/bad files (Hash Comparison). If the hash is unknown, the system proceeds to Local File Analysis (static analysis leveraging AI/ML models on the appliance). If the local analysis determines the file requires deeper inspection, it is only then sent off for Cloud File Analysis (dynamic sandboxing). Therefore, local analysis occurs strictly after hash comparison but before cloud analysis.
