Microsoft Administering Relational Databases on Microsoft Azure Sample Questions (Q301-Q306):

NEW QUESTION # 301
You have an Azure subscription that contains an Azure SQL database named SQLDb1. SQLDb1 contains a table named Table1.
You plan to deploy an Azure web app named webapp1 that will export rows in Table1 that have changed.
You need to ensure that webapp1 can identity the changes to Table'. The solution must meet the following requirements:
* Minimize compute times.
* Minimize storage.
Which three actions should you perform in sequence? To answer. move the appropriate actions from the list of actions to the answer area and arrange them in the correct order.

NEW QUESTION # 303
You are building a database in an Azure Synapse Analytics serverless SQL pool.
You have data stored in Parquet files in an Azure Data Lake Storage Gen2 container.
Records are structured as shown in the following sample.
The records contain two applicants at most.
You need to build a table that includes only the address fields.
How should you complete the Transact-SQL statement? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.
NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Box 1: CREATE EXTERNAL TABLE
An external table points to data located in Hadoop, Azure Storage blob, or Azure Data Lake Storage. External tables are used to read data from files or write data to files in Azure Storage. With Synapse SQL, you can use external tables to read external data using dedicated SQL pool or serverless SQL pool.
Syntax:
CREATE EXTERNAL TABLE { database_name.schema_name.table_name | schema_name.table_name | table_name } (
<column_definition> [,...n]) WITH (LOCATION = 'folder_or_filepath', DATA_SOURCE = external_data_source_name,

FILE_FORMAT = external_file_format_name Box 2. OPENROWSET When using serverless SQL pool, CETAS is used to create an external table and export query results to Azure Storage Blob or Azure Data Lake Storage Gen2.
Example:
AS
SELECT decennialTime, stateName, SUM(population) AS population
FROM OPENROWSET(BULK
'https://azureopendatastorage.blob.core.windows.net/censusdatacontainer/release/us_population_county/year=/
FORMAT='PARQUET') AS [r] GROUP BY decennialTime, stateName GO Reference:

NEW QUESTION # 304
SIMULATION
You need to generate an email alert to admin@contoso.com when CPU percentage utilization for db1 is higher than average.
To complete this task, sign in to the virtual machine. You may need to use SQL Server Management Studio and the Azure portal.

Answer:

Explanation:
Create a CPU status alert for a SQL Server on Azure
Create a metric alert with dynamic thresholds (Create an alert when a CPU exceeds an average) Step 1: In the search bar at the top of the Azure portal, type SQL, and select SQL databases.
Select the AdventureWorksLT database name listed.[Here db1]
Step 2: On the main blade for the database, navigate down to the monitoring section. Select Alerts.
Step 3: Select Create alert rule.
Step 4: In the Select a signal slide out, select CPU percentage.
Step 5: In the Configure signal slide out, select Dynamic for the Threshold property
Step 6: Then check that the Operator property is Greater than, the Aggregation type is Average.
Select Done.
(There is no Threshold value)
Step 7: Select the Actions tab.
Step 8: In the Actions tab, select Create action group.
Step 9: On the Action Group screen, type emailgroup in the Action group name field, and then select Next: Notifications.
Step 10: On the Notifications tab, enter the following information:
Notification type: Email/SMS message/Push/Voice
Note: When you select this option, a Email/SMS message/Push/Voice flyout will appear. Check the Email property and type:
[admin@contoso.com]
Step 11: Select Review + create, then select Create.
Note: Dynamic thresholds apply advanced machine learning and use a set of algorithms and methods to:
Learn the historical behavior of metrics
Analyze metrics over time and identify patterns such as hourly, daily or weekly patterns Recognize anomalies that indicate possible service issues Calculate the most appropriate threshold for the metric When you use dynamic thresholds, you don't have to know the "right" threshold for each metric, because dynamic thresholds calculate the most appropriate thresholds for you.
