NEW QUESTION # 24
Which phase of the project is the time to maximize on the employees' new awareness and management support?

- A. Benchmark
- B. Structure
- C. Milestones
- D. Timelines

Answer: C

Explanation:
Milestones are important events in a project that mark the completion of a major deliverable or the achievement of a key goal. They are a good time to check in with employees and management to see how they are feeling about the project, and to get their feedback on how things are going. This is also a good time to reinforce the importance of the project and to get everyone re-committed to its success.
The other three options are not as good times to maximize on the employees' new awareness and management support. Timelines are important, but they are not as important as milestones in terms of getting people's attention. Benchmarks are useful for tracking progress, but they are not as good for getting people's buy-in.
Structure is important for organizing a project, but it is not as important as milestones for motivating people.
So, the answer to the question is that the milestones phase of the project is the time to maximize on the employees' new awareness and management support.
Here are some specific things that you can do at the milestones phase to maximize on employee awareness and management support:
* Hold a team meeting to celebrate the milestone and to discuss the next steps.
* Send out a communication to all employees and managers, highlighting the milestone and thanking everyone for their hard work.
* Meet with management to discuss the project's progress and to get their feedback.
* Use the milestone as an opportunity to reinforce the importance of the project and to get everyone re- committed to its success.

NEW QUESTION # 26
Damage assessment includes all but which of the following steps?

- A. Identifying the affected business functions.
- B. Evaluating the time to restore operations and if greater than the MTD, a disaster should be declared and BCP enacted
- C. Having the insurance company declare the total extent of the damages.
- D. Estimate the time it will take to restore critical business functions.

Answer: C

Explanation:
Explanation
Damage assessment is the process of evaluating the extent and severity of the damage caused by a disruption to an organization's facilities, equipment, systems, data, records, or personnel. It includes identifying the affected business functions and processes, estimating the time it will take to restore them to normal or acceptable levels of operation, and evaluating whether the recovery time exceeds the maximum tolerable downtime (MTD) for each function or process. If so, a disaster should be declared and the business continuity plan should be activated. Having the insurance company declare the total extent of the damages is not part of the damage assessment process, as it may take longer than the MTD and may not reflect the operational impact of the damage. A disaster can also be declared for an illness pandemic where a significant portion of employees are sick.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: A

Explanation:
A disaster can also be declared for an illness pandemic where a significant portion of employees are sick. This is true because an illness pandemic is a type of natural disaster that can affect an organization's ability to continue its normal operations. An illness pandemic can cause absenteeism, reduced productivity, increased costs, supply chain disruptions, customer dissatisfaction, or regulatory compliance issues. Therefore, an organization may need to declare a disaster and activate its business continuity and disaster recovery plan if an illness pandemic impacts its critical functions and processes beyond an acceptable level.
