- A. Freight order
- B. Transportation lane
- C. Vehicle resource
- D. Freight booking

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

* Freight order (C): Drivers can be assigned directly to a freight order during planning or execution, specifying who will operate the vehicle for the transport.

The other options are incorrect:

* Transportation lane (A) defines routes and costs but does not include driver assignments.

* Freight booking (B) is used for ocean or air transport and typically does not involve driver assignments, which are more relevant to road transport (freight orders).
