Salesforce Certified Platform Developer II - Multiple Choice Sample Questions (Q76-Q81):

NEW QUESTION # 76

When the sales team views an individual customer record, they need to see recent interactions for the customer. These interactions can be sales orders, phone calls, or Cases. The date range for recent interactions will be different for every customer record type.

How can this be accomplished?

- A. Use a Lightning component to query and display interactions based on record type that is passed in using a design:attribute from the Lightning page.
- B. Use Lightning Flow to read the customer's record type, and then do a dynamic query for recent interactions and display on the View page.
- C. Use a dynamic form on the customer record page to display recent interactions.
- D. Use batch Apex to query for the most recent interactions when the customer view screen is loaded.

Answer: A

Explanation:

A Lightning component can dynamically query and display interactions based on the customer's record type. The component can receive the record type as a parameter and adjust the query accordingly, providing the required functionality without batch processing or additional configurations.

NEW QUESTION # 77

A developer is writing a Jest test for a Lightning web component that conditionally displays child components based on a user's checkbox selections.

What should the developer do to properly test that the correct components display and hide for each scenario?

- A. Create a new describe block for each test.
- B. Add a teardown block to reset the DOM after each test.
- C. Reset the DOM after each test with the `afterEach()` method.
- D. Create a new jsdom instance for each test.

Answer: C

Explanation:

To ensure that the DOM is clean before each test runs, the developer should use the `afterEach()` method to reset it. This is part of the setup and teardown process in Jest tests, which helps to avoid state leakage between tests. Reference:

NEW QUESTION # 78

A developer needs to implement a system audit feature that allows users, assigned to a custom profile named "Auditors", to perform searches against the historical records in the Account object. The developer must ensure the search is able to return history records that are between 6 and 12 months old.

Given the code below, which select statement should be inserted below as a valid way to retrieve the Account History records ranging from 6 to 12 months old?

- ☐ A)
- ☐ B)
- ☐ C) D)
- ☐

- A. Option D
- B. Option A
- C. Option C
- D. Option B

Answer: D

Explanation:

Given the code snippet, the correct query to retrieve Account History records between 6 and 12 months old would be the one that includes a WHERE clause filtering records where the `CreatedDate` is greater than or equal to `initialDate` and less than or equal to `endDate`. Option B's statement does this correctly by using the `>=` and `<=` operators to define the range between `initialDate` (which is set to today's date minus 12 months) and `endDate` (set to today's date minus 6 months). Options A, C, and D either use incorrect comparison operators or compare against the wrong variables, resulting in an incorrect data set being returned.
