APICS Certified in Planning and Inventory Management (CPIM 8.0) Sample Questions (Q23-Q28):

NEW QUESTION # 23

Which of the following criteria is used to determine safety stock in a distribution center (DC)?

- A. Economic order quantity(EOQ)
- B. Probability of stocking out
- C. Seasonal index value
- D. Alpha factor level

Answer: B

Explanation:

The probability of stocking out is the likelihood that the demand for an item will exceed the available inventory during a given period. It is one of the criteria used to determine safety stock in a distribution center (DC), as safety stock is inventory that is carried to protect against forecast errors and fluctuations in demand or supply. The higher the probability of stocking out, the more safety stock is needed to avoid customer dissatisfaction and lost sales. The other criteria are not directly related to safety stock. Economic order quantity (EOQ) is the order quantity that minimizes the total inventory holding and ordering costs. Seasonal index value is a measure of how demand varies according to different seasons or periods. Alpha factor level is a parameter used in exponential smoothing to adjust the forecast based on the error between the actual and forecasted demand. #### NEW QUESTION # 24

The question below is based on the following alternative schedules for a lot of 1,200.

A company works 8-hour, single-shift days. Setups are 4 hours for Operation 20 and 4 hours for Operation 40.

Each operation has multiple machines available.

Which of the following statements is correct?

- A. Lot splitting results in the shortest overall lead time.
- B. Operation overlapping results in reduced total setup costs.
- C. Lot splitting results in reduced total setup costs.
- D. Operation overlapping results in reduced total span time.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Lot splitting is the technique of dividing a lot into smaller sub-lots that can be processed concurrently, especially when multiple machines are available. This strategy significantly reduces overall lead time by processing portions in parallel instead of sequentially.

"Lot splitting results in the shortest overall lead time... reduces total span time."
