The Open Group TOGAF Enterprise Architecture Combined Part 1 and Part 2 Exam Sample Questions (Q169-Q174):

NEW QUESTION # 169

Which of the following is included as part of Architecture Governance?

- A. Creating and maintaining the Statement of Architecture Work through out the ADM cycle
- B. Ensuring compliance with internal and external standards and regulatory obligations
- C. Managing Stakeholders and their requirements
- D. Interacting with the CxO level on Enterprise Architecture

Answer: B

Explanation:

Ensuring compliance with internal and external standards and regulatory obligations is one of the activities included as part of Architecture Governance. Architecture Governance is the practice and orientation by which enterprise architectures and other architectures are managed and controlled at an enterprise-wide level. It involves establishing processes, roles, responsibilities, policies, and standards to ensure that architectures are aligned with the enterprise's strategy and objectives, and meet the quality and performance requirements. Reference: The TOGAF® Standard | The Open Group Website, Section 3.3.6 Architecture Governance.

NEW QUESTION # 170

Exhibit:

□ Consider the image showing basic architectural concepts.
What are items A and B?

- A. A-Stakeholder, B-Concern
- B. A-Base Architecture, B-Target Architecture
- C. A-Candidate Architecture, B-Trade-off
- D. A-User, B-Requirement

Answer: A

Explanation:

In the context of TOGAF, a stakeholder is any individual, team, or organization who has interests in, or concerns relative to, the outcome of the architecture. Concerns are those interests which pertain to any aspect of the system's functioning, development or operation, including considerations such as performance, reliability, and security¹. References:

NEW QUESTION # 171

Consider the following ADM phases objectives.

□ Which phase does each objective match?

- A. 1B-2D-3A-4C
- B. 1C-2D-3B-4A

- C. 1A-2B-3C-4D
- D. 1C-2B-3A-4C

Answer: D

Explanation:

The objectives in the table are related to the development of target architectures and the architecture vision, which are the outputs of the following ADM phases:

Phase A: Architecture Vision, which develops a high-level aspirational vision of the capabilities and business value to be delivered as a result of the proposed Enterprise Architecture³ Phase B: Business Architecture, which develops the Target Business Architecture that describes how the enterprise needs to operate to achieve the business goals.

Phase C: Information Systems Architectures, which develops the Target Data Architecture and the Target Application Architecture that enable the Business Architecture and the Architecture Vision, in a way that addresses the Statement of Architecture Work and stakeholder concerns.

Phase D: Technology Architecture, which develops the Target Technology Architecture that enables the logical and physical application and data components, addressing the Statement of Architecture Work and stakeholder concerns.

Therefore, the correct match is 1C-2B-3A-4C, as shown below:

NEW QUESTION # 172

Consider the following chart:

Which important concept for Enterprise Architecture Practitioners does it illustrate?

- A. ADM phases must be run simultaneously until the relevant information has been produced.
- B. Enterprise Architects must use Gantt charts to communicate with Stakeholders.
- C. An Enterprise Architecture must be developed in phases with a limited fixed duration.
- D. ADM phases must be run in a sequenced approach to produce the Architecture.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The chart shown is a Gantt chart, which is commonly used for project management to illustrate a project schedule. In the context of TOGAF (The Open Group Architecture Framework), which is a framework for enterprise architecture, this Gantt chart is demonstrating the sequenced approach to the Architecture Development Method (ADM). The ADM is the core process of TOGAF which provides a tested and repeatable process for developing architectures. The ADM is described as being iterative, over the whole process, between phases, and within phases. For each iteration of the ADM, a fresh decision must be taken about each of the parameters (scope, granularity, time period, and architecture assets).

The ADM consists of a number of phases that have to be followed in sequence:

Preliminary Phase: Framework and principles

Phase A: Architecture Vision

Phase B: Business Architecture

Phase C: Information Systems Architectures, including Data and Application Architectures Phase D: Technology Architecture Phase

E: Opportunities and Solutions Phase F: Migration Planning Phase G: Implementation Governance Phase H: Architecture Change

Management Requirements Management Each phase is dependent on the outputs of the previous phase and the Requirements Management phase runs throughout. The Gantt chart clearly shows the dependency and sequence in which these phases occur, implying that a structured approach is followed to produce the enterprise architecture.

NEW QUESTION # 173

Complete the following sentence:

Presenting different _____ and _____ to stakeholders helps architects to extract hidden agendas principles and requirements that could impact the final Target Architecture

- A. Solutions Applications
- B. Alternatives Trade-offs
- C. Business Scenarios Business Models

- D. Architecture Views Architecture Viewpoints

Answer: B

Explanation:

Presenting different alternatives and trade-offs to stakeholders helps architects to extract hidden agendas principles and requirements that could impact the final Target Architecture. Alternatives are different ways of achieving a desired outcome, while trade-offs are compromises or sacrifices that must be made to choose one alternative over another.
